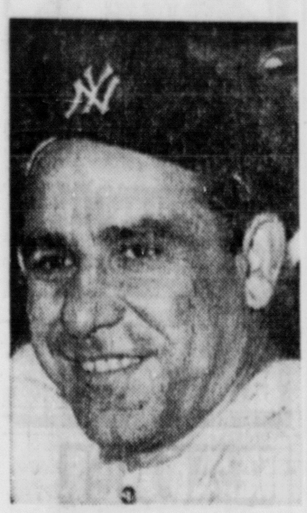
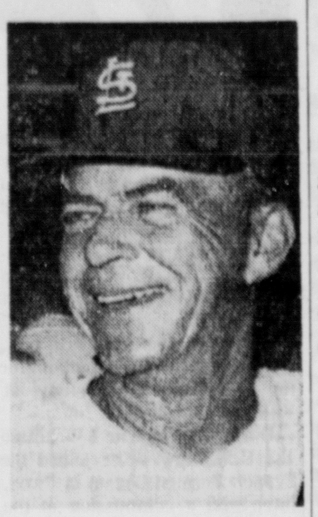
Yanks Fire Berra; Keane Quits Cards



YOGI BERRA
Manager fired



JOHNNY KEANE
Quits a winner

Al Dark May Get N.Y. Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra was dismissed as manager of the New York Yankees today, climaxing an unprecedented World Series aftermath.

The Yankees made the announcement only a few hours after Johnny Keane had quit as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. See also story, page 16.

Keane's Cardinals beat Berra's Yankees yesterday in the seventh game of the World Series.

NEW CONTRACT

Ralph Houk, the Yankee general manager, made the announcement and said Berra had accepted a two-year contract in the Yankee organization as a special field consultant working under Houk.

"The decision was made before the World Series," said Houk, who pointed out that the decision was made by him and club president Dan Topping. He also said that the Columbia Broadcasting Company, which has purchased a controlling share in the Yankees, was not consulted.

FIRST HE KNEW

Under questioning after his announcement, Houk said "this morning was the first Yogi knew about this."

Houk, who said the Yankees probably would make an announcement within the week about a new manager, said Al Dark is among those being considered and said that now Keane's name would likely be added to the list. Houk said four men were on the list.

Dark was fired as manager of

2 Cars 'Tap' But One Flies Off Highway

A northbound car flew off Waldo Grade today, vaulted a small embankment and soared end-over-end until it crashed 30 feet below the highway on the sidewalk of the Marin City underpass.

The driver, Irene Mary Bacigalupi, 66, of San Francisco, was rushed to Marin General Hospital with extensive injuries. She was still under X-ray examination at noon and details of the injuries were not immediately known.

The accident happened at 11:45 a.m. after Mrs. Bacigalupi's car collided with another northbound auto driver by Moises Abujder, 24, of Oakland.

The California Highway Patrol said the two cars only "tapped."

But the collision was enough to send Mrs. Bacigalupi's car veering off to the right. In its spectacular travels, it struck a telephone cable and crunched through the top of a 15-foot fence before it struck the underpass road on its side.

Abujder was able to retain control of his car.

CHP officers were still trying to determine what caused the two cars to collide.

Neither car carried passengers.

President Cancels Weekend In Texas

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Lyndon B. Johnson, prompted by international developments, canceled plans today to spend the weekend in Texas.

George E. Reedy, White House Press secretary, said Johnson would make scheduled campaign appearances tonight in Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio, but would return to the White House, rather than fly to his Texas ranch.

Fusselman, Kettenhofen Lock Horns In Board Race

Supervisor William D. Fusselman and challenger Ernest N. Kettenhofen tore into each other in a free-swinging debate last night at Sleepy Hollow Center before about 50 members of the Sleepy Hollow Homeowners Assn.

Kettenhofen accused Fusselman of "absenteeism and negaticism." That's "utterly foolish and asinine," snorted Fusselman.

Moderator Roland Hauck, caught in the middle, halted proceedings several times as both speakers were talking at once.

Kettenhofen referred to Fusselman's votes to abolish the county administrator's office and stop work on the Civic Center as examples of "negativism."

Fusselman pointed to his 38 years in public office, 23 on the board of supervisors, and observed: "My record is all right. It is utterly foolish and asinine to accuse me of negligence and absenteeism."

The two clashed on various topics.

On Corte Madera flood control, the Army Engineers have designed a project that would put a wide concrete ditch from Ross through Fairfax.

Kettenhofen has suggested a two-stage development, with less concreting from Granton Park upward to Fairfax so some of the natural beauty of the creek can be saved.

Fusselman replied he had nothing to do with the ditch design, and has been waiting to get together with Rep. Don H. Clausen to discuss the project. Fusselman noted that the county has no jurisdiction within the cities.

Kettenhofen said the supervisors should assume more leadership. "We should guide destinies ourselves instead of letting destinies guide us."

Kettenhofen said he went to the State Division of Highways and got studies started on a ridge route so that an alternate route can be built from Highway 101 to West Marin, bypassing populated areas.

"I've been advocating that for eight years," said Fusselman.

Kettenhofen called the county administrator form of government efficient and effective.

"I'm not against a manager or county administrator per se," said Fusselman, "but I think for Marin a special assistant to the board would be better."

Fusselman explained he voted to stop work on the Civic Cen-

Synanon Says Won't Enroll With Police

Also Refuses To Ask Permit For Hotel Use

Synanon Foundation's attorney said today he has advised residents of Synanon House at Marshall to refuse further fingerprinting and picture taking by the Marin County sheriff's office.

The attorney, Dan L. Garrett Jr., said he would inform Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales Jr., of his advice that no more residents of the home for former narcotics addicts comply with the order for fingerprinting and photographing. This, said Garrett, is regardless of whether they have histories of narcotics addiction.

LAW ARGUED

Twenty Synanon House residents appeared at the district attorney's office Tuesday. Five of them were children. Most of the addicts completed registration forms and were fingerprinted and "mugged" in compliance with a district attorney's order.

Bales said he issued the order under a section of the state health and safety code which requires such procedure for former addicts. Garrett contended today the law makes no such requirement.

Garrett said he was instructing Jack Hurst, Synanon director at Marshall, to make arrangements for all remaining residents to register at the sheriff's sub-station in Point Reyes Station, but not to submit to being fingerprinted or photographed.

PERMIT SPURNED

Meanwhile, the deadline arrived today for application by Synanon for a use permit for the Synanon House at Marshall, as directed by County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs. But William Miracle, assistant to Hurst, said the foundation had no plan to make an application. He said, "We see no need to file for a use permit." This, he reported, was also on advice of Garrett.

Dobbs said that if the application was not received, he would ask the district attorney to "enforce the zoning ordinance."

Phoenix Lake Fixing Pegged At $200,000

The Marin Municipal Water District board yesterday gave the district manager the go-ahead to draw up plans and firm cost estimates for restoring Phoenix Dam.

General Mgr. William R. Secger said the project will cost about $200,000, compared to $50,000 to remove the dangerous dam. But he added that outside funds may help with the work.

He noted that the county park and recreation commission had voted a recommendation that the county help with the cost, and said the Ross Town Council also said some town money might be provided.

Phoenix Lake would have little or no water value for the district, commented director William C. Herup.

There would be some stand-by

Fair Weather Seen Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The weather will continue mostly fair through tomorrow, at least in Northern and Central California, the forecaster said today.

Temperatures are generally above normal for mid-October in most of the state.

The five-day forecast, through next Wednesday, said there may be some rain in the extreme north early next week, but none elsewhere.

Inmate Slashes Arms, Wrists

A 32-year-old San Quentin Prison inmate slashed his arms and wrists last night.

Sgt. C. M. Buchanan spotted the convict, Jesse Irvin Vivier, cutting his arms in his cell at 7 p.m., took the razor away from him and got him to the prison hospital for treatment.

Vivier, serving five years to life for armed robbery, was reported in satisfactory condition today. He was transferred to the prison psychiatric ward.

China Sets Off A-Bomb; Nikita Aides Are Fired

Izvestia Editor Is Out

MOSCOW (AP) — With Nikita Khrushchev toppled from power and pushed into obscurity, the new leaders of the Soviet Union sought today to reassure the people that de-Stalinization and economic improvements will continue.

This was the first policy indication given by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the beefy, brooding protege of Khrushchev who emerged from a Secret Communist Party meeting as the party's first secretary—the top job here. It was contained in a statement in the party paper Pravda.

WEARY LOOKING

Alexei N. Kosygin, a weary looking administrator, became premier in changes announced early today.

A number of Khrushchev aides were reported by reliable informants to have lost their jobs also. Most prominently named in these unconfirmed reports was his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the government paper Izvestia. Pavel Satyukov, editor of Pravda, also was reported to have quit.

NIKITA MYSTERY

The mystery long associated with the red brick walls of the Kremlin was wrapped about the Khrushchev departure. There was no explanation for the 227 million Russian people of what had become of the man who led them for almost a decade, or why he had been dropped by the wayside.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper, Pravda, published a front-page statement that the party "firmly and consistently carries into life the Leninst general line worked out at the 20th and 22nd congresses of the party."

Khrushchev delivered his famous speech against Stalinism at the 20th congress in 1956. The 22nd congress five years later set long-term goals of improved

Three submarines and five minesweepers were expected later.

Russ Envoy Declares Soviet Policy Same

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin said at the White House today that the new Soviet government intends to maintain the established policy of "peaceful coexistence" and work for a further relaxation of tensions in the world.

Dobrynin is understood to have given that message to President Lyndon B. Johnson in a conference of about half an hour in the president's office.

Afterward, Johnson escorted the diplomat to a driveway where microphones and cameras were set up.

The relationship between the two men, following the sudden government upheaval in Moscow, was obviously cordial.

Dobrynin told reporters he could not tell them what he had said to Johnson but he could tell them about the position of his government.

"The foreign policy of the Soviet Union which was set by the party congresses, the 20th, 21st and 22nd party congresses, is going to be unchanged," he declared. "The foundation of our policy is the strengthening of peaceful coexistence among countries with different social systems and a further relaxation of tension."

Dobrynin had asked for the meeting on instructions from Moscow to give a message of reassurance to the president to the effect that the sudden change in the Kremlin did not mean a sudden change in U.S.-Soviet relations, diplomatic officials said.

Johnson met with Dobrynin after a session with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Ambassador at Large Llewellyn Thompson, special assistant McGeorge Bundy and other foreign policy aides.

Race Rioting Hurts Two In Richmond

RICHMOND (AP) — Negroes and whites rioted last night in downtown Richmond after a white man was stabbed and a Negro was shot and wounded by bullets from a passing vehicle. Quiet was restored at midnight.

In what police described as a "tense racial situation," about 75 young whites and Negroes roamed the inflamed area for two hours, hurling rocks and yelling at each other.

An unconfirmed report said the thrown rocks broke a number of car windows and youths wandering through bars and restaurants in this Contra Costa County community roughed up several persons. No injuries were reported from these incidents, however.

Willie Fry, 46, a Negro was admitted in serious condition to Contra Costa County Hospital in Martinez with bullet wounds in his neck and leg.

Richard Bihr, 39, of San Francisco, was sent to Kaiser Hospital in Oakland with stab wounds of the back. He was booked for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon.

Fifth Nuclear Power

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China joined the world's atomic powers today with an announcement it has exploded its first bomb in the western region of China.

The announcement came less than 24 hours after Moscow had exploded a political bombshell of its own—the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev. China's atomic disclosure and retirement of Khrushchev are likely to raise China's Mao Tze-tung's stature among world Communist leaders.

NO. 1 SPOKESMAN

To the Chinese, he is already the No. 1 spokesman for international communism. The rift between Mao and Khrushchev with the Russian's sometimes abortive efforts to keep Moscow in the driver's seat for the Communist movement, was doubtless a factor in his downfall.

The Chinese announcement came, ironically, at a time the new leadership in Britain is charting plans to end that nation's own nuclear deterrent program. (See story on British election, page 2.)

TIME GIVEN

The official New China News Agency only quoted a government statement saying "China exploded an atom bomb at 1500 hours (3 p.m.—10 a.m. EST) on Oct. 16, 1964, and thereby conducted successfully its first nuclear test."

The government statement said China was forced to conduct nuclear tests and develop nuclear weapons. "China cannot remain idle and do nothing in the face of the ever-increasing nuclear threat posed by the United States," it said.

U.S. officials have pointed out

China Asks Summit To Ban A-Weapons

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China having exploded its first atomic bomb today, immediately proposed a world summit conference to ban the use of nuclear weapons. Peking was reported pledging it would never be the first to use the dread bomb in warfare.

(Shortly afterward President Lyndon B. Johnson told the American people the Chinese explosion was more a "tragedy" to the Chinese people than a threat to world peace.)

Labor Party Wins By Narrow Margin

LONDON (AP) — The Labor party ended 13 years of Conservative rule today by winning control of the House of Commons —but by a slim margin which can mean trouble ahead.

Harold Wilson, who wants to abolish Britain's independent nuclear deterrent, led his party to victory and becomes prime minister. At 48, he is the youngest one in the 20th Century.

TO RESIGN

The retiring prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, 61, went to Buckingham Palace to present his resignation to Queen Elizabeth II.

At the time, vote tabulations showed Wilson's party with exactly half the 630-member House of Commons, but with other winning seats to be reported. Wilson was forecasting "just a bare majority."

Returns from 621 of 630 parliamentary districts with the net changes in seats won:

Conservative 301, loss 54;
Labor 315, gain 56.
Liberal 5, loss 1.
Others 0, loss 1.

Jo Grimond's small Liberal party could wind up in a balance of power position in the new House convening Nov. 3.

WOULD HELP

Grimond said he would be willing to cooperate with the Laborites to get a government going if the Liberals and Laborites reached an understanding.

Grimond did not say what his price would be.

Many of the districts late in reporting the outcome of the voting yesterday have been in the Conservative column for generations.

Despite the Laborite gains, Conservative headquarters refused to concede. Results from Tory strongholds later today were certain to cut into the Laborite margin.

HAROLD WILSON
New prime minister

Computers and political experts, however, forecast the final result would show a thin Labor margin over the Conservatives of 17 seats in the House of Commons. That would be enough to make Wilson Britain's first Labor prime minister in 13 years.

If Labor's margin falls below 17 seats, the party would find it difficult to govern effectively. Every major government decision is subject to House of Commons vote.

A rash of Labor absentees could be fatal. Parliament would face a prolonged bout of bitter infighting just as Britain is running into grave financial problems.

Prime Minister Douglas-Home, 61, the aristocrat who led the Tories into electoral battle for the first time, spent the night tightlipped inside No. 10 Downing Street, the prime minister's official residence.

Wilson, pipe-smoking economist and former Oxford University lecturer, called the result "moderately encouraging." He shied away from an outright claim of victory but party officials made it for him.

The voting followed Britain's rowdiest campaign of modern times but failed to bring out the record poll expected.

The Laborites jumped into an early lead with returns from the big cities and industrial areas, but the Conservatives cut the margin as results came in from agricultural districts.

An influx of Pakistani immigrants and resulting social tensions cost Labor the seat of Patrick Gordon Walker, 57, historian picked by Wilson to be his foreign secretary.

Walker was ousted by Peter Griffiths, 35, a Conservative unknown who charged the Laborites supported immigration from the Commonwealth's colored members.

SIR ALEC DOUGLAS-HOME
Will resign

U.C. Regents Say 'No' To Student Plan

Rule Out Meeting At Davis Session On Demonstration

DAVIS (AP)—A flat "No" coupled with a pledge to maintain campus law and order is the answer University of California regents gave Berkeley students who demanded a meeting with the board.

"No useful purpose would be served at this time" by a regents-students discussion, U.C. President Clark Kerr told newspapermen yesterday after a four-hour closed meeting with the board.

The secret session dealt with the mass demonstration on the Berkeley campus in early October. For three days, several hundred persons milled around outside and inside an administration building, defying police and refusing to allow them to move a car containing a Cal graduate arrested for trespassing.

The demonstration arose over student dislike for rules governing political activity and fund raising on campus.

He repeated his assertion that some students involved in the protest "had Communist sympathies . . . About 40 per cent . . . did not have current student status," he added.

With Board Chairman Edward W. Carter of Los Angeles at his side, Kerr read to reporters the reply the regents sent to student leader Mario Savio, who earlier wired Carter demanding a meeting today with the regents on threat of "alternate action."

Carter's answer was that "your communication with the regents should be conducted through the president's office which is our regularly established channel."

At Berkeley Thursday, the faculty Academic Senate adopted a resolution reaffirming "its conviction that force and violence have no place on this campus."

The Academic Senate, Kerr reported, has been asked to form an advisory committee "to hear the cases of eight students under suspension."

In Berkeley the students' Free Speech Movement applauded the creation of the Academic Committee.

"We think we have won a very big victory," said Art Goldberg, a student leader.

In other business, the regents approved Kerr's proposal for U.C. campuses overseas. The centers for American students would be established for the 1965-66 school year at the Chinese University in Hong Kong; the English Universities of Birmingham, Sussex and Edinburgh; the University of Chile in Santiago or the University of the Andes in Bogota, Columbia; and a summer session at Caracas, Venezuela.

Composer Cole Porter Dies At 71

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Cole Porter, one of the 20th century's greatest composers and lyricists, died last night at a Santa Monica hospital where he underwent kidney surgery Oct. 13. He was 71.

Doctors said Porter "simply stopped breathing." They did not give an official cause of death but said Porter's general physical condition even before he was admitted to the hospital Sept. 22 for a routine checkup was poor.

An infection from a kidney stone flared up after he was admitted, necessitating the surgery.

Only his special nurse was at his bedside when he died. Outside the door were his chauffeur and valet.

Porter was the author of song hits such as "Night and Day," stage musicals including "Kiss Me Kate," and did the music and lyrics for such films as "High Society."

His was a familiar face in the cafe society circles of Europe and the United States. He was born a millionaire, made another fortune from a fabulously successful musical career, and was the close friend of scores of the world's celebrities.

Porter's life was so uniformly successful that when Hollywood made a film of his life—"Night and Day," starring Cary Grant as Porter, in 1946—script writers had a hard time finding crises in his life to sustain the story line.

His hits were almost countless.

Among his better known songs: "Begin The Beguine," "What Is This Thing Called Love," "In The Still of The Night," "I've Got You Under My Skin," "My Heart Belongs To Daddy," "You Do Something To Me," "You'd Be So Nice To Come Home To," "I Love Paris," "Silk Stockings," "True Love," "So In Love," "Wonderbar," and "Don't Fence Me In."

Porter was born in Peru, Ind., June 9, 1893. He left Indiana for the opportunities to study at Yale and Harvard.

During World War I — before the U.S. entry — he joined the French Foreign Legion in Paris, later won a commission in the French artillery, and served at the front as an officer.

In 1919 he and Linda Lee Thomas were married in Paris. She was the daughter of a Louisville, Ky., banker, William P. Lee. Porter's grandfather, J. O. Cole, who found coal on his Virginia timberlands, left him one million dollars.

Porter's legs were crushed in a 1937 riding accident when a horse fell and rolled on him. Dozens of operations followed and finally, in 1958, Porter's right leg was amputated.

COLE PORTER
Kidney ailment

His wife died in 1954. They had no children.

Porter's last Broadway hits were "Can-Can" in 1953 and "Silk Stockings" in 1955. He wrote the words and music to "Aladdin," a 1958 television spectacular. He had been in retirement since that time.

Negro, White 'Conformity'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The leader of San Francisco's 3,500 realtors has expressed the opinion that most Negroes and whites prefer to life "with or near people like themselves."

Richard E. Horberg, president of the San Francisco Real Estate Board, told a State Senate committee yesterday that various fears are the root of discrimination against Negroes.

A major fear, he testified, is that the man next door will be too different from himself.

"Man, as a social animal, does expect a degree of conformity from his neighbor," Horberg declared. ". . . If he fears that a potential neighbor will not meet the norm, he rebels at the prospects."

Didn't Know About Aide, LBJ Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson says he had no information on Walter W. Jenkins that would have led him to question the personal conduct of his top aide before Jenkins' two arrests on morals charges became public.

But, the president said in a statement last night, once he was told Wednesday of the arrests — one of them in 1959 and the other last week — he asked Jenkins to resign. Jenkins promptly did so.

"No man I know has given more personal dedication, devotion and tireless labor," Johnson said of his aide for 25 years.

But he added: "On this case as on any such case, the public interest comes before all personal feeling."

The president said: "Within moments after being notified last night, I ordered Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI to make an immediate and comprehensive inquiry and report promptly to me and the American people."

Today the Washington Post reported it had learned the police forwarded data on Jenkins' 1959 arrest to the FBI that year and that in April 1961 this data, including a copy of his fingerprints record, was forwarded to the Secret Service, which had requested the information.

What the Secret Service did with the data is shrouded in secrecy, the Post said. Neither the FBI nor the Secret Service would comment immediately. At the time Johnson was vice president and Jenkins was his administrative assistant.

Johnson's statement, heavy with compassion for 46-year-old Jenkins, his wife and six children, one of whom was named "Lyndon" after the president, was distributed to newsmen when they returned with the president from his New York campaign trip.

In effect, it was a reply to Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who earlier in the day had accused the president of covering up for Jenkins after the first arrest.

And it followed by several hours a sympathetic statement by Mrs. Johnson, who described Jenkins as a man who "reached the end point of exhaustion in dedicated service to his country." She said the Johnsons were praying for his recovery.

Police records show that Jenkins was arrested on Jan. 15, 1959, at the Washington YMCA on a charge of "disorderly conduct (pervert)" and again at the YMCA on Oct. 7 this year on a charge of "disorderly conduct (indecent gestures)."

Wednesday afternoon, as the arrests became known, Jenkins was sent to George Washington University Hospital by his physician, Dr. Charles Thompson, with what was described as "extreme fatigue" and his resignation was announced by the traveling White House in New York.

The arrests could have serious political implications as the presidential campaign heads into the stretch run, and in Republican ranks reaction varied.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidentiad candidate, asserted the White House is "dark with scandal" but that he would have no comment on the Jenkins arrests "at any time."

Rep. William E. Miller, the GOP vice-presidential candidate, said in Chicago the Jenkins matter poses "very, very serious" national security questions that Johnson should answer for the American people.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, campaigning for the GOP in Fort Wayne, Ind., coupled Jenkins with Bobby Baker, who quit under fire as secretary to the Senate Democrats, and said Johnson should appear on television "and explain how the two men closest to him in the past 10 years were both bad apples."

And Burch issued a statement saying: "The Walter Jenkins episode raises grave questions of national security which only the president can — and must — answer. The story up to now is only partially revealed."

Phone Rates Cut, Refund Being Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pacific Telephone Co. should reduce rates and refund 80 million dollars to subscribers to prevent "unjust enrichment of the utility and take the profit out of delay."

That was the State Public Utilities Commission contention yesterday in the State Supreme Court where Pacific Telephone is appealing from the two PUC orders.

Last June, in a 3-2 decision, the commission cut Pacific Telephone's rates by $40,720,000 a year and cut to 6.3 per cent the 1958 authorized rate of return on investment of 6.75 per cent.

The commission's decision ordered the reductions effective retroactive to July 26, 1962, and directed that the company pay about 80 million dollars in refunds.

Richard E. Tuttle, the commission's chief counsel, told the Supreme Court the company was getting interest free use of the contested 80 million dollars through its court appeal.

"In all good conscience," he said, "the company should not retain the excessive charges collected during these proceedings.

"If one were to justify the commission's refund order in a single word that word would be "fair."

At the time of the PUC decision, William M. Bennett, of Kentfield, one dissenting member, questioned whether the commission had legal authority to impose rate reductions retroactively.

Answering this principal contention in the phone company's appeal, the commission declared that if the 80-million-dollar refund had not been ordered the phone company would increase its net income by $50,000 a day during rate proceedings before the commission.

Race Trouble Seen If Prop. 14 Passes

If Proposition 14 passes, California may be in for more civil disorder than it has yet seen, Marin County law enforcement men were told today.

Passage of the controversial proposition, with its repeal of the Rumford "fair housing act," will give demonstrators "a flag that they can rally behind," Deputy State Atty. Gen. Raymond Momboisse told a day-long seminar of peace officers at the Civic Center.

Momboisse wes described by the seminar's master of ceremonies, Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos, as "the man who wrote the book" on how California policemen should control demonstrations and riots.

The speaker said the recent University of California demonstration at Berkeley badly damaged police effectiveness in keeping civil order, because it has "given the students a go-ahead sign . . . Just how much respect do you think they'll have for an officer now?"

The state aide declared police could readily have prevented the spectacular events in which students grabbed an officer, lifted him out of the mob, stripped him of his shoes, and blockaded a police car with an arrested man inside for nearly 36 hours.

"The only thing lacking was guts enough to go in and do something—and that was not the fault of law enforcement officials," Momboisse stressed. He did not say whose fault it was.

Reviewing demonstration and riot control technique, Momboisse warned that police must learn in advance of proposed demonstrations, prepare to thoroughly photograph — preferably in color — and record the entire event including all arrests, and plan out all strategy in advance. In riots, the officer in charge of field forces must have absolute discretion to take any action necessary without having to delay for a decision from outside the scene, he said.

Momboisse reviewed and commended police actions in the recent Palace Hotel and Auto Row demonstrations in San Francisco, and eastern riots which he said make police "look pretty bad."

West Marin Water Annex Is In Offing

Annexation of the West Marin area to the Marin Municipal Water District is in the offing, district mgr. William R. Seeger told the district board yesterday.

He asked for formal authority to continue preliminary work which would eventually bring about such an annexation. The board refused that, but did give informal approval, without a vote. Robert W. Elliott, district attorney, said that would be sufficient.

Seeger noted that the West Marin area is served by a group of small private companies and public districts. He said he doubted whether the County Local Agency Formation Commission would ever allow a new district to be formed in the area for water service.

He said that the North Marin Water District should include all the land north of Point Reyes Station and east of the ridge of hills running parallel to Tomales Bay, and the Marin Municipal District should serve all the area south of Point Reyes Station and the Point Reyes Peninsula. The area along the east shore of Tomales Bay, west of the ridgeline and north to the county line, could easily be served by either district, he suggested.

Seeger said he has heard requests from landowners for annexation, but there has been no formal petition. He said the annexed area could be formed into an improvement district to pay for installing facilities.

Civil Action To Be Sought Against West

Leland H. Jordan, Sausalito city attorney, said today he will request dismissal of building and zoning violation charges against carver Barney West, 42, and instead file civil action in Marin Superior Court.

Jordan said he will seek a court injunction to force West to remove an addition to an ark at the foot of Mono Street in Sausalito. Jordan said the civil approach is more likely to satisfy the city's aim—that of guaranteeing compliance with zoning and building laws — than the criminal complaint.

West was charged with building onto the ark on railroad-leased property without a building permit, and with occupying the land and a building for business without a zoning or occupancy permit.

Fifteen artists Wednesday picketed Sausalito City Hall with signs accusing the city of harrassing West with the charges. West led the protestors.

Group Against Annex Plans

Tamalpais Fire Protection District directors last night went on record as being opposed to Mill Valley's annexation of 137 acres, saying this is merely a way of the city's "taking small bites instead of big ones."

"The proposed annexation seems to be aimed at Alto," said commissioner Donald J. Taylor. "We are sympathetic with Alto and think the annexation will create a precedent in the Tamalpais Valley area of one small bite." He said the district has jurisdiction over a small parcel of marshland included in the proposal.

The Local Agency Formation Commission, which last May 28 turned down a proposed 255-acre annexation including that now proposed, will consider the new proposal at 8:45 a.m. next Thursday.

that some time must elapse, possibly years, before China can turn its first experimental explosion into what can be regarded as a nuclear force.

In any case, Red China can be expected to seek to become the spokesman of the nuclear club for what is sometimes called the Third World—that lying between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The other powers having nuclear capability are the United States, Russia, Britain and France.

Russia helped China in early stages of its nuclear planning.

Today's announcement did not say whether China's test was held in the atmosphere or underground.

Red China is not a signer of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, which bars nuclear testing in all areas except below the surface of the earth.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk forecast Sept. 29 that the Communist Chinese might soon explode their first test device. He said then:

"For some time it has been known that the Chinese Communists were approaching the point where they might be able to detonate a first nuclear device. Such an explosion might occur in the near future."

Students Put Out Campus Fire

Students sleeping in at the College of Marin campus this morning were on the spot to save the student union from burning down.

Cheer leader Paul Molinari was in the student union watching for possible vandals from Sierra College of Auburn, where College of Marin will play football tomorrow night. At 1:30 p.m. he smelled smoke.

Suddenly the popcorn machine in the cafcteria burst into flame.

Molinari and other students were able to pull the machine out the door and then put out the fire with a fire extinguisher. There was no damage to the building and the Kentfield Fire Department was not called.

Hub Landscaping Policy Is Urged

Maxiumum parking with a park-like atmosphere, landscaping and shopper convenience were called for last night in the development of parking lots at the corner of Sir Francis Drake and Center boulevards in San Anselmo.

These things were listed in a statement of policy adopted at a joint meeting of the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation and Planning Commissions. It will be presented to the city council at a special council meeting Tuesday.

Officer Fires Warning At Fleeing Man

San Rafael Police Officer Phillip D. Green chased a speeding, careening car early today and fired a warning shot when the driver fled on foot.

The driver got away, but four hours later a man reported the car stolen at the Marin County sheriff's office, and just as he was about to leave, admitted that he had been the driver all along.

The chase started when a car shot past Officer Green at Irwin and Dubois streets. Green followed in his police car and saw the auto skid broadside as it made the turn from Dubois Street into Woodland Avenue, but when he turned the corner no car was in sight.

Two bystanders showed Green a car parked in a lot at 109 Woodland Avenue. Green saw a man dart from the far end of the lot and up the street. Green pursued him and fired a shot into the air when the man reached the crest of a hill. The man had gone when Green reached the hilltop.

At 5 a.m. Leonard S. Fabian, 29, of 109 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, entered the sheriff's office to report the car stolen.

Officer Green was called in and questioned Fabian, who kept to his stolen car story, but just as he was leaving admitted that he was the driver.

Police said they would ask the district attorney for a warrant charging Fabian with evading arrest, speeding, reckless driving and filing a false police report. He was allowed to leave the sheriff's office without being booked today.

value, answered Seeger, although the lake has not been used for a water supply since the Nicasio Reservoir was completed.

"It's certainly not worth $200,000 for water," remarked director Robert G. Anderson.

"Maybe not for water, but it might be to the community as a whole," Seeger answered. "It would not be popular to take it out."

"If this board spent $200,000 to rehabilitate the dam, this board wouldn't be very popular either," retorted Anderson.

Board president William A. Marcus said he would be willing to go along with the project only if outside financial help comes in. He said the state and federal governments may contribute, through fish and wildlife funds or for flood control.

"I will be surprised if we get the contributions," said Anderson.

"So will I," commented Marcus. "But I'm perfectly willing to be surprised."

Radio Stolen From Store

A burglar, who apparently hid out in Brown's Home Furnishers in Mill Valley prior to yesterday's closing, stole three pocket transistor radios, a camera kit and $15 in cash, it was reported to police today.

Employee Ray Ainsworth said the sliding door at the rear of the building at 38 Miller Avenue, secured on the inside by two heavy bolts, was found open when he arrived for work to day at 8:30 a.m.

The radio repair room had been entered, the lock having been forced apparently by a sharp instrument.

Outside Engineer To Inspect Pumps

The Novato Sanitary District board last night authorized Charles Joseph, district engineer-manager, to hire an outside engineer to inspect the pumping stations in the Scottsdale development. Stanley M. Bala of Corte Madera was hired today at a cost not to exceed $2,000, Joseph reported.

The board rejected a request by Joseph to increase the amount he could spend without board authorization from $500 to $2,500.

Theft From Home

Theresa Clivio told Mill Valley police yesterday that, on return home after being away three days, she found someone had entered her home at 32 Lovell Avenue and stolen a rose-colored candle, a glass pitcher and a fifth of scotch. Total value is $10, she said.

ter in January of 1961 because he wanted to see if the building could be converted to a hospital to provide a place for residents of the County Hospital and Farm, who were in old buildings that were earthquake hazards.

Kettenhofen said Fusselman had been absent in all or part of 10 of the first 14 supervisors' meetings in 1964.

"Not true," said Fusselman. He said he was absent only two afternoons because he had to visit a sick friend.

They clashed head-on, and neither would budge, on the question of how much the Civic Center work stoppage cost the county. Fusselman insisted it had not cost the county "one cent."

Fusselman said the county counsel had informed supervisors the stop-work was permissible, and the county would not be liable to damages.

"That is a falsehood," declared Kettenhofen, pulling out papers to back up his statement.

He showed an agreement signed by the county and the contractor on Dec. 17, 1963, which said in part:

"County shall release to contractor all moneys presently withheld, whether for corrective work or by reason of stop notices filed with county, the same being in the amount of $29,028.75."

Kettenhofen said the cost of the stop work was included in that settlement. He also produced a letter from the county counsel saying the county would be liable for damages.

Fusselman flatly denied it all.

In his opening remarks, Fusselman reminisced about Sleepy Hollow in the old days.

Kettenhofen listed various ideas he has advanced, such as a county park in mudflats behind Marin Catholic High School, the ridge route to West Marin, putting Highway 101 in the interstate highway system, a bond issue to finance the next stage of the Civic Center, and possibility of consolidating some of the many taxing districts through a "non-controversial" charter form of government.

the San Francisco Giants at the end of the season and replaced by Herman Franks.

Asked if any current players on the Yankees were under consideration, Houk said he thought it "was an unfair question since we're going to have an announcement within the week."

Houk said "all four of the men on the list are experienced managers and not one of them is in the Yankee organization." However, he refused to name the other two men on the list.

Houk said he had started thinking about the change in mid-August but the decision was not made definitely until a few days before the World Series.

Houk was asked if players had complained about Berra's managing, as reports have indicated, and he answered:

"I don't want to put the blame on anybody."

Then Houk was asked about Berra's four coaches — Whitey Ford, Frank Crosetti, Jimmy Gleeson and Jim Hegan.

"It is the policy for the manager to name his own," he answered.

Then, Houk was asked why the move had been made and he replied simply:

"It was better for all concerned."

Before the questioning period began, Houk had made the official announcement and said:

"The move we have made had nothing to do with the Yankees loss of the World Series yesterday. We believe this move will be beneficial to all concerned."

Marin Thief Has Religious Streak

There must be a Mill Valley thief with a religious streak.

Mrs. Alfred Stone of 55 Wildomar Street reported to police at 2:03 p.m. yesterday that while her car was parked at Vogue Cleaners at 77 Miller Avenue, someone removed some books, a basket and a Bible. In addition, said Mrs. Stone, the thief took her lunch bag.

Slope Policy Ordinance Approved

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night approved a proposed slope policy ordinance to control hillside development. It will go before the town council Monday.

The vote was 3-1, with Chairman Norman Eaton and Commissioners Albert J. Boro and William T. Sheehan in favor and Harold B. Wagstaff opposed. Commissioner C. W. Thomas was absent during that part of the meeting.

Wagstaff said he was opposed because of the requirement that the town could require lots as large as an acre, if the slope is steep enough. He asked that the maximum lot be cut to 20,000 square feet.

The commission approved plans for the town's planned public safety building, including an alternate to save a cypress tree.

Also approved were plans for the J and B Ford Agency at 5800 Paradise Drive.

SOVIET

economic conditions and the attainment of communism. Any attempt to drop these policies would probably meet strong popular resistance, many diplomats in Moscow believe.

There was general belief that Khrushchev's departure would open the way to at least a measure of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China.

But any reconciliation could also require a common policy toward the West. This would probably mean an end to Khrushchev's era of peaceful coexistence.

Political experts in Vienna said Khrushchev's eclipse was bound to suspend at least the liberalization drive which has been going on in Communist Eastern Europe.

The world was stunned by the cryptic announcement just after midnight that Khrushchev, 70, had asked to be relieved as first secretary of the party and premier because of "advanced age and deterioration of his health." The ebullient, rotund leader had shown no particular signs of ill health lately, but he suffers from high blood pressure and a recurring heart condition.

Observers in the West believed that repercussions from the bitter feud between Moscow and Peking and shortcomings in the Soviet economy also played a part in the colorful leader's sudden eclipse after 10 years in power.

The official announcement gave no indication what had happened to Khrushchev, last reported vacationing on the Black Sea. But it said he had lost his place on the party presidium, indicating he would have no future role in Soviet policy.

This was a strong indication that Khrushchev had not retired voluntarily or been stricken ill. As a voluntary retired elder statesman, Khrushchev might have been expected to remain on the presidium. And Frol Kozlov, widely regarded as Khrushchev's chosen successor until felled by a stroke and heart attack last year still is on the presidium and a party secretary although inactive.

Fire Station Plans Gain

Tenative plans to enlarge Tamalpais Fire District's No. 1 station on Poplar Avenue were approved by the district's board last night.

The expansion is to provide enlarged sleeping quarters, a small dining room, added truck space, a training tower and a social room. Cost, estimated at $11,000 to $12,000, is to come from funds already budgeted, said Commissioner Donald J. Taylor.

Commissioners commended Fire Chief Herbert Owen for his stand against Freethy Co., contractors who are building the Coyote Creek flood control project, when Owen drove his fire truck onto Poplar Avenue Bridge to keep workmen from destroying the bridge. The bridge was destroyed after county counsel advised the district could not legally prevent it.

AID WHEN NEEDED—First aid stations at large benefit affairs are an unsung service provided by Marin County Chapter of the American National Red Cross, a United Crusade agency. Here Mrs. Charles Quinn, registered nurse and the Chapter's disaster nurse chairman, demonstrates, while Junior Gray Lady Peggy Blackmore makes notes.

PART OF CRUSADE

First Aid Stations There If Needed

At the recent Tournament of Stars at Peacock Gap, the wife of one of the celebrity golfers felt faint and was directed to the Red Cross first aid station.

"She was most impressed with the station," reports Mrs. J. Lyman Hurlbut, who was on duty, "and asked all about it. She said they didn't have such stations at golfing benefits in Los Angeles and asked how to go about starting them. I told her to contact her local Red Cross chapter."

In Marin, Red Cross first aid stations are no novelty. They are, in fact, probably the most taken-for-granted, unsung service provided by the Marin County Chapter of the American National Red Cross, an agency of the United Crusade.

At big events such as the Grape Festival, the Mountain Play, and the Marin Art and Garden Fair, a first aid station is always on the grounds to take care of emergencies. First aid supplies, cots, blankets, etc., are brought from the chapter house in San Rafael, and the station is ready in a matter of minutes. First aid procedures as taught by Red Cross are followed.

Volunteers staff the stations, working in four-hour shifts. A registered nurse is in charge, assisted by a Red Cross junior gray lady. The Marin County Medical Society cooperates by having a physician on call. If necessary, the patient may be referred to his own doctor or even transferred to a hospital by ambulance.

"The emergencies are usually not serious," says Mrs. Hurlbut, who is in charge of staffing the stations. "We treat cuts, abrasions, and blisters. In the case of a foreign object in the eye, we call the doctor. A complete record is kept of every visit and treatment.

"The station is also available for mothers," Mrs. Hurlbut added. "They may come to nurse their babies or change their diapers. We can also heat bottles."

Mrs. Hurlbut is chairman of nursing services for the local Red Cross chapter, and Mrs. Charles Quinn, disaster nurse chairman, works with her on the first aid station project. About 50 Marin nurses volunteer their services during the year in addition to the junior gray ladies.

Non-profit organizations are eligible to request Red Cross first aid stations at large benefit affairs. They are asked to give at least a month's notice. When the chapter is not able to provide this service, it will give instructions in organizing and equipping a station.

Tiburon Is Nearing Consultant Decision

The Tiburon City Council last night accepted the nomination of Williams, Cook and Mocine as city planning consultants but made no firm promise to hire them.

Councilmen agreed to look over the proposed contract with the San Francisco firm, check with the city attorney, and meet with planning commission members and firm representatives as soon as possible, but set no date.

The Tiburon Planning Commission on Oct. 8 agreed to nominate the firm to the council as the best nine interviewed on doing a planning inventory for the city.

The council decision to accept the nomination was by unanimous vote, though Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood had said she preferred a council meeting with the firm before taking any stand.

Miss Ellinwood said she had heard of some problems which other cities had had with the firm.

Williams, Cook and Mocine has proposed planning studies which include traffic route studies, a population profile, work with a citizen committee to be appointed by the city, and evaluation of the present master plan. The firm estimated the job would take eight months and cost $6,424.

In addition, John D. Erickson, in association with the firm, would act as day-to-day consultant to city officials for two months for $1,700. For any work beyond that time he would be paid on a per-day basis.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

1. Postponed to the Oct. 26 meeting discussion of a city stand on a dredging permit being asked of county supervisors by Harbor Cove developers who seek to dredge part of Salt Works Canal for fill to be placed offshore in the area of Strawberry Point School. A few hundred square feet of the proposed dredge area would be in Tiburon.

2. Adopted a curfew ordinance prohibiting persons under 18 from being outside past 11 p.m. without proper supervision.

3. Continued to the Oct. 26 meeting a proposed garbage collection franchise.

4. Named Arthur T. Knutson, assistant director of public works for the county, as acting city engineer under the city's contract for county engineering services.

5. Affirmed planning commission approval of construction of a three-unit apartment by Richard Ham between Lyford Drive and Vistazo West. Councilman Ellinwood voted "no."

6. Approved final map for a 20-lot subdivision, Porto Marino, between Hacienda Drive and Del Mar, on hearing the county had approved preliminary plans before Tiburon incorporation and the city, in this case, had no choice but to approve the final map. The area is being considered for a school site by the Reed School District. Councilman Leo Souza, also on the school board, abstained.

7. Adjourned to 8 p.m. next Thursday to complete the agenda, including discussion of a proposed drainage district.

Personal Touch On Coffee Cup

PAINTSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The personalized shaving mug in the village barber shop long ago passed from the scene, but Bob Montgomery wouldn't let the idea go by.

In his sundries store, he has a rack of coffee cups inscribed with the names of his regular customers.

Not everybody gets a cup. "A man has to drink about a gallon to qualify," says Montgomery.

Community Service Award Planned By Sausalito Unit

The Sausalito Citizens Council will initiate an award for distinguished community service at its annual meeting and election of directors Thursday at 8 p.m. in the IDESST Hall.

Council members will hear Mayor Jan Paul Dyk and three other speakers talk on "Sausalito's Report—A Look At the Future," designed to give a resume of how city government is dealing with forces and problems in the Sausalito area.

Dyk will speak on the past year's accomplishments and major issues yet to be resolved in waterfront planning, tourism increase, recreation and general appearance of the city. Robert L. Nissen, planning commission chairman, will speak on new zoning laws and central waterfront planning. Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck will speak on protection of homes and safety and traffic, and Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry will tell of progress in fire fighting facilities.

Four names have been submitted as candidates to fill places of directors whose terms expire. They are Raymond Gergus, Wint F. Saint, Arie Slikkerveer and Carl W. Spring. Spring and Gergus are incumbents. Incumbent directors Richard Cruikshank and president Glenn T. Hall, whose terms expire, are not in the race.

The council will also discuss minor amendments to by-laws.

San Clemente School Buses Long Way Off

John W. Boyd, chairman of the Larkspur School District board, told about 130 residents of the San Clemente School area last night that the district will consider restoring of bus transportation, but not before next September.

"The school district won't buy buses. That's not economically feasible," he said. "We will check on leasing buses.

"It is my opinion that if the community has the money and is willing to pay and make the necessary sacrifice in the school program, we will give it very serious consideration."

The suggestion seemed to mollify the crowd, who had alternately jeered and applauded school board members at a special meeting on whether seventh and eighth grades should be provided at San San Clemente School. All seventh and eighth graders now attend Neil Cummins School, across Highway 101.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen predicted the problem would be solved —in a way—by the fall of 1966. By then, he said, there is a "very, very strong possibility that the Larkspur district will no longer be here."

He referred to unification, predicting there would be an election on the question next April. This would combine the Larkspur and Reed districts. Cohen said Reed District is planning a seventh-eighth grade school near the San Clemente area.

He said it would be folly to build many more classrooms at the San Clemente School now.

Gilbert Slusher, principal of Larkspur-Corte Madera School, and assistant superintendent on business matters, said projections show principal population growth will be on the west side of Highway 101, not near San Clemente School.

Principal Catherine Burch of Neil Cummins School said that the district's junior high school-type seventh and eighth grade program has proved to be a big improvement over the "self-contained classroom."

Herber C. Leney, chairman of the board of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn., read a four-page statement containing a series of questions about the spending of bond money and about district finances.

He was told the answers were at the district office.

Moreland Thompson, who called himself a "card-carrying member" of the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn., commented, "We don't have a lot of money in this school district." He said the recently approved $476,000 bond issue was for construction of school rooms and purchase of equipment, and the recent tax increase was mainly to increase teacher pay.

"This is not the San Clemente School District," he went on. "It is a part of the Larkspur School District."

James McClintock, chairman of the citizens committee on the bond and tax elections, said there had been innuendoes that someone had promised that if the bonds were passed, seventh and eighth grades would be put in San Clemente.

He said no such promise was ever made.

Boyd told the group to attend board meetings when budget discussions start, probably in January, to talk about buses. But Trustee Curtis P. Kamai noted that if buses are provided for Mariner Cove, they will also have to be provided for other parts of the district.

Lookout Is Asked For 'Rabies' Dog

Delivery men and anyone who makes the rounds of residential areas were called on today by Mrs. Justin Williams to be on the lookout for a dog which bit her 5-year-old son at Ross School eight days ago.

The dog is white with brown spots, short and fat, has a short droopy tail and small floppy ears. If the dog were not found today, Lowell Williams, 5, of 1 Allen Avenue, Ross, was to begin taking painful anti-rabies injections this afternoon.

Marin City Sets Election For Community Action Unit

Marin City will hold an election Nov. 1 to choose five members of a community action committee to recommend projects for which Marin City might apply for federal aid under the Economy Opportunities Act (anti-poverty bill).

Two other members, to complete the seven-member committee, are to be appointed by the Marin City Community Services District board.

The board voted last night to set the election, which will be from 3 to 6 p.m. in the community lounge. Persons eligible to vote must be registered voters, over 21 and residents of Marin City three years.

Nominees must submit their names by Oct. 26 to the Marin City office of the Marin Council of Community Services in the Rosa Building.

Improved education for young people and training for job opportunities are the two things the act could aid in Marin City, according to John A. Thomson, board secretary.

Bruce S. Gardiner, assistant executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority, announced the housing authority plans to move out of its administration offices in January, thus leaving the whole community building to the services district.

Gardiner also reported that Marjorie Ward, minority specialist with the State Department of Employment, who has been away on sick leave, will be in room 12, Manzanita School, from 1 to 7 p.m. each Wednesday to take applications for employment.

The board endorsed Proposition 1 on the Nov. 3 ballot, a proposed $150,000,000 bond issue to acquire beaches and parks, following a talk on the subject by Mark Friedman of Mill Valley, Marin County Conservation League member.

Among adults the consumption of milk is significantly less than the two glasses or more recommended daily by nutritionists.

Veteran Aid Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson has signed into law a bill that guarantees some increase for every veteran or veteran's widow now receiving a pension under the federal veterans pension program.

The White House, disclosing this today, said the president signed the measure Tuesday.

It has been estimated that the new law will add 80 to 85 million dollars a year to the cost of the program.

Demolition rivals construction as a big business in New York City. During 1963, some 3,700 buildings were torn down.

ROBERT PARKS
State 4-H winner

4-H Club Sheep Winner

Robert Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parks of Tomales, has been named state winner in the 4-H Club sheep project program.

Parks, a student at Santa Rosa Junior College, has been a member of the Tomales 4-H Club for 10 years.

He has raised 262 sheep and has developed several management practices, including a system for culling and grading lambs, a rating index for ewes and a monthly weighing a measuring system for young rams.

As a state winner, Parks will be eligible to go to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29-Dec. 3.

Sentencing of Fred E. Jensen, San Rafael city councilman who Sept. 21 entered "no contest" pleas to misdemeanor charges of brandishing a revolver in a threatening manner, and malicious mischief, was continued in Marin Municipal Court yesterday until 3 p.m. Oct. 29.

Probation department officials said needed information had not been obtained, delaying their report to Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

Jensen allegedly committed the offenses Sept. 3 in the home of Mrs. Juliet Bobo, 211 California Street, San Rafael, his ex-wife. Two San Rafael policemen said he leveled a loaded revolver at them when they entered the home in response to a call from Mrs. Bobo.

Sailor Must Stand Trial

CONCORD (AP)—A 23-year-old sailor accused of strangling a 14-year-old school girl listened impassively in court yesterday to a tape recording of a voice identified as his saying, "I did it. I killed her."

Jack Bergh, Navy enlisted man from Deer River, Minn., must stand trial for murder in the Sept. 22 death of Judy Barnes, a Mount Diablo High School sophomore.

Judge Wroy Renaghan of the Concord Municipal Court ordered Bergh bound over to the Contra Costa County Superior Court for trial. The Superior Court arraignment was set for Oct. 20.

Hearing In Drive-In Death Is Continued

Hearing for James D. Henry, 17, charged with the Aug. 30 death of William E. Hoover in an Ignacio drive-in encounter, was held from 3:30 p.m. until 6 p.m. yesterday by Marin County Juvenile Court and continued for more testimony until 1 p.m. Oct. 26.

Henry, of Hamilton Air Force Base, allegedly struck Hoover, 18, son of Chief M/Sgt. and Mrs. Cecil E. Hoover, 598 Bolling Drive, also at Hamilton, at Burge's Drive-In Restaurant on Aug. 27. Hoover died in Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

This Is The Time Of Year When New Menu Items Seen

This is the time of year when restaurateurs look over their menus, scratch the items that haven't been moving, scratch their heads for substitutions they think will please, add, subtract and eventually come up with a new bill of fare.

In any event it usually does stimulate the jaded diner to try something different for a change.

Franchini's Chateau for one has a new dinner carte carrying several new items: double New York steaks, double rack of lamb and a culotte steak which is served along with a Caesar salad. Also added are chicken cacciatori, medallion of beef, "diamond cut" prime rib and frog legs.

And there's now a color TV set installed in the lounge.

DOWN AT the Dock in Tiburon, new chef Richard Kung has also come up with several menu additions.

This I haven't tried yet, but it's said to be quite the thing in dining: Brochettes of lamb with mushrooms and cherry tomatoes, served with a peanut butter sauce.

And if you like seafoods, try his "Coquille St. Jacques," a combination of several things "marinara," boasting a light curry sauce and served in a large shell. His roast duckling a l'Orange is also popular.

IN THE RESTAURANT business it's said that if you can get through the first year by adding a few new customers every month and at the same time keep the ones you started out with, you should have it made.

Jim Pias and Reno Bosco at Pandora in San Anselmo are in that position this month, celebrating their first anniversary on the slope of Red Hill. Official date for the occasion is being observed Oct. 28, when there will be a grand cocktail party with expanded hors d'oeuvres table (almost like dinner) and the recreating of a Grecian party scene.

THE PLAINTIVE TONES of Juan Garcia's voice at Ramona's Mexican restaurant in San Rafael make a pleasing background for a fare of tacos, chili rellenos or enchiladas verdes, as entertaining to the listener as they are authentic.

The name Juan Garcia is about the equivalent of "John Smith" in English nomenclature, and in that same vein Juan does not indulge in an overdisplay of showmanship, preferring to let his voice tell the story.

If you know a Spanish number or two, try it out with him. He's a good accompanist and probably will show you off to even better advantage by harmonizing. Good listening Friday and Saturday nights. Or you can engage his services for your own party.

Monday is now "family day" at Ramona's, featuring combination plates at $1 for lunch and at $1.95 at dinner time. And don't forget, wines are now served here.

NOT QUITE READY. Dean De La Montanya's plans to reopen in San Geronimo this weekend won't materialize — there's still more work to be done. But give things one week more and the doors should start swinging.

NEW ENTERTAINMENT feature in the cocktail lounge at Sabella's of Marin is "Scopitone," a glorified juke box with a 26-inch movie screen allowing viewers to watch the performers as well as listen to their music.

FASCINATED LISTENER—Tiny Sobrina Roblin makes an appreciative audience for guitarist Juan Garcia at Ramona's as he sings and plays "Cucuru," a Mexican selection popular with children.

VIVIAN MASON is featured at the piano bar in the Lodge cocktail lounge in Novato Tuesday through Saturday nights. Eventually she may bring in and play the organ, which is her specialty.

And we hear that Lars Eric Benson is new chef at the Lodge, which for many is the only food recommendation that's needed.

JOE MILANI, former owner of the Embers in Corte Madera in years gone by—when it was known as Joe's Village Patio—is back there again, tending bar during the daytime.

And new owner Mike Hickey is now opening every day (except Monday) at 8 a.m. No ham and egg breakfasts served then, but you can get rolls and coffee.

Dinner menu has been changed to feature prime rib and chicken, and there's also chicken on the buffet Mike holds Sundays and Tuesdays at 5:30 p.m. —all you can eat for $1.75. He has a new cook, Tony Moore.

The George Duke Trio plays here Sunday afternoons, starting at 3:30.

NATIONAL WINE WEEK (Oct. 24-31) isn't long enough this year for California vintners to hold all the special events scheduled, so two groups in opposite ends of the state are getting a week's jump on the official timing with celebrations in Santa Rosa and Cucamonga.

In Santa Rosa, the Sonoma County Wine Growers Assn. will hold a champagne reception and dinner dance tomorrow night at Los Robles Lodge. Coincidentally the Lodge will open its new "Barrel Room," displaying every variety of wine produced in the Redwood Empire. Opening ceremonies will include an appearance by National Wine Queen Kay Gerhard, along with wine officials and groups from other areas. Dancing to Al La Marks' orchestra.

"UNA FESTIVA MAGNIFICA" was the way Bill Nave described last Monday's Italian Festival at Nero's Room. It was, he says, reminiscent of old-time Italian affairs like this in Marin and brought in about 350 participants. The Naves are planning to have festivals more often.

Long Trip To Finish Last

SALEM, N.H. (AP) — Johnny Longden, the nation's oldest active jockey at 57, had a long trip for nothing. He flew here from California to ride Wil Rad in the New Hampshire Sweepstakes.

Wil Rad, owned by William Radovich, showed early speed but stopped leaving the backstretch and finished last in the 11-horse field.

Treat Us As Adults, Asks Ex-Student Body Chieftan

A plea to the College of Marin administration to treat students as adults, not children, was made by a former student body president before the college board last night.

Marc Mezzetta of Corte Madera, president during the fall, 1962, semester, complained that the cigarette machine in the cafeteria had been removed by the administration without consulting the students through the student personnel committee.

"What more could the administration do to destroy the respect that the associated students had for them?" Mezzetta asked.

He reminded the board that the student committee was created less than three years ago to serve as a liaison between the administration and the student body.

"This procedural channel was in existence and yet the administration ignored it," Mezzetta said.

Trustee Kent O. Seymour said he believed the administration had no intention of violating the students' desire to be consulted. He said that after the machine was removed, the administration discussed the matter with the students and when no agreement was reached, the issue was brought to the trustees for a ruling. The board, in a 3-2 decision, upheld the administration's action.

"The law says you cannot sell cigarettes to a person under 18. There are about 400 students unwe can violate the law," Seywe can violatet he law," Seymour said.

Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students, declared: "We aren't going to prohibit the students from smoking but we are just not going to provide the service of a cigarette machine for them. This is an administrative matter."

Mezzetta declared the administration must realize College of Marin was not a high school.

He suggested a more proper remedy would be abolition of smoking on campus — among faculty and administration as well as students.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Delayed action on an administrative proposal to hire a coordinator for vocational education programs until its Oct. 22 meeting.

2. Employed Dr. Jean Pouteau of San Rafael as a consultant to counselors working with students with emotional problems, at a fee of $600 for the school year. Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy and Dean Diamond said the service was "definitely necessary" because the counselors needed help in assisting students with serious adjustment problems. Seymour voted against the proposal.

3. Awarded a contract for removal and demolition of buildings at 31 Laurel Avenue, which the college purchased last month, to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael, low bidder at $1,285.

4. Adopted a resolution commending Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and Rep. Donald H. Clausen for their efforts on the proposed flood control project for Corte Madera Creek. The resolution urged members of Congress to provide appropriations to complete the project, and asked local cooperation.

5. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Betty Burke of Mill Valley as accounting clerk, effective Oct. 23.

6. Delayed awarding of a contract for 50,000 cubic yards of dirt fill for the corporation yard site in Kentfield one week.

Drake Paving May Be Done By Nov. 1

Paving probably will be completed by Nov. 1 on San Anselmo's "hub" project—widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard—but it probably will be well into next month before the contractor is finished with electrical and other work, San Anselmo Public Works Director Richard Sypher said today.

Questioned about reports that the job was supposed to have been completed in time not to inconvenience thousands of Grape Festival visitors, Sypher declared, "Somebody was kind of hopeful, but this was never my information."

He recalled that City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt had told the city council that paving might be completed by mid-October, but not that any mention had been made of doing the work by the Oct. 3 Grape Festival event.

Legal completion date for the contract is Feb. 19, 1965; the work is well ahead of schedule, Sypher said.

Catholic Worship To Change

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that further changes in Roman Catholic worship — including provisions to bring priest and people face to face at Mass — will go into effect next March 7.

The changes becoming effective the first Sunday of Lent, include requirements:

That henceforth altars placed in newly built churches face the people so that they can follow services better.

That the priest face the people when reading the epistle and Gospel, now read with the priest facing the altar and with his back to the congregation.

That the Last Gospel and prayers after Mass be eliminated so that the service ends with the postcommunion blessing.

That some of the prayers now said silently by the people during Mass be said aloud or sung.

That national episcopal conferences decide the text of prayers said by the congregation at Mass.

Tiburon Grass Fire Contained

Tiburon firemen yesterday fought a 15-acre grass fire apparently started by small children.

Four fire trucks and up to 15 firemen brought the blaze under control and continued "mopping up" from 4 p.m. when the fire started to about 6 p.m.

The fire started near the 500 block of Silverado Drive, above Little Reed Heights, Fire Chief Frank Buscher reported. Sheriff's deputies, who serve recently incorporated Tiburon under contract, were checking to find the identities of two small children who may have started the fire.

8 Grenade Deaths

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — A series of explosions at a hand grenade training range killed eight police cadets and sent 12 others to the Philippines-run Operation Brotherhood Hospital today.

Quake Is Recorded At Time Of 'Blast'

PASADENA (UPI) — Seismolog Dr. Charles Richter said today he recorded "a natural earthquake" at about the time have detonated an atomic bomb.

Richter said he could not disclose whether his instruments also recorded a nuclear explosion in Red China. Cal Tech is equipped to detect nuclear blasts anywhere in the world but this is classified information to be released only by the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington, he said.

Viet Troops Kill 44 Reds

SAIGON (UPI) — Vietnamese government troops swooped down on a Communist position southwest of Saigon today and were reported to have killed 44 and captured 10 Red guerrillas in the initial clash.

Government forces were reported to have suffered only three wounded.

However, as the battle raged on through the day, an American military spokesman said the government was late in rushing reinforcements to its troops.

Khanh Objects To Constitution

SAIGON (UPI)—Moj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's objections to a draft constitution brought a temporary halt today in progress toward a new civilian government for South Vietnam.

Authoritative sources said the provisional constitution faces more days of debate in the race against the Oct. 27 deadline.

The draft constitution already had been approved by the 17-member high national council charged with framing the charter and naming a new national leader.

But Khanh called on the council yesterday and presented two demands, both of which were hinted at in a vaguely worded communique issued by his office today.

Reckless Driving Sentence Imposed

John Thomas Norton, 21, Muir Beach, was sentenced to 60 days already served in Marin County Jail and placed on 18 months probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for reckless driving.

He was arrested Sept. 10 after an 80-mile-an-hour automobile chase by Mill Valley police which ended when Norton's vehicle overturned in a creek at Fort Berry.

He also was charged with assaulting one of the officers, Douglas Stone, with a nine-inch screwdriver, but the complaint later was dismissed.

Nikita 'Recount'

LONDON (UPI)—The front page of today's Daily Mail, dominated by British election news, included a cartoon by artist Jon showing Nikita Khrushchev storming out of the Kremlin saying, "I demand a recount."

Scholarship Information Kept On Tap

Tamalpais High School officials are making sure their students do not lose out on any possible scholarships available.

The second issue of a weekly "college and scholarship digest" was issued Wednesday by editors James Hanretty and William Wallace, a five-page mimeographed brochure punched for filing and later reference. The digest offers a variety of tips for the teen-ager wanting to go on to college.

News of registration procedure at University of California campuses gives the students an insight to how important early signups are to insure their enrollment on the campus of their choice; the digest also announces a film showing to help 7am students pick a Cal campus.

Deadlines and application details for a number ofb scholarships are announced. A calendar lists a variety of meetings and other dates for scholarship-minded teen-agers and parents to remember.

Murphy Stumps In Marin Claims Gains Over Salinger

By WAT TAKESHITA

Hollywood executive George L. Murphy stumped through Marin yesterday with a prediction that he is now leading Pierre Salinger in the battle for the U.S. Senate seat.

Murphy, the Republican nominee, said the Field poll showed he was just two or three percentage points behind Salinger, "but since the TV debate, I think I've passed him up."

State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) accompanied Murphy in visits to the Independent-Journal and radio station KTIM yesterday afternoon. Murphy drove to a rally at his Novato campaign headquarters.

"Public and private polls now prove what I have been saying for four months," declared Murphy. "The people of California resent Pierre Salinger's arrogant play to elbow his way into the affairs of the state he deserted years ago."

Murphy said he has taken no position on the state propositions on the November ballot because they are state issues.

However, he is in favor of federal civil rights. "I would have voted for that bill."

The former actor, now vice president of Technicolor Corp. and Desilu Studios, said he is getting support from all over including Dwight D. Eisenhower, James Doolittle, and Walt Disney.

Murphy said he is opposed to federal encroachment on the local level. "I've watched this great octopus grow and reach out."

On reapportionment of state legislatures, Murphy believes the present system should be retained. "I think one group (assembly) should be on a numerical basis and the other (state senate) on a geographical basis."

Commenting on the John Birch Society, Murphy said he would not denounce individual members of the society. "But," he added, "I don't have too much confidence in Mr. (Robert) Welch because of some of the statements he has made."

About 100 Attend Political Satire

About 100 persons attended last night's presentation of the political satire "First Lady" at San Rafael High School auditorium, sponsored by the Marin Committee to Elect President Johnson.

Mrs. Isabel Iribarne of San Rafael won a gift, which was donated by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. It turned out to be a book, "The President's Lady," a biography of Lady Bird Johnson. It was autographed, "Very best wishes, Lady Bird Johnson."

Unification Coming Residents Are Told

"Unification is coming," John Townsley, field representative of the California Teachers Assn., last night told approximately 150 residents of San Jose and Novato unified school districts at the Novato High School cafeteria.

"If this unification election fails, it must be voted on again every two years—forever," he told the meeting which was sponsored by parent-teacher associations of both districts.

He referred to the election Nov. 3 on forming a new unified district of the Novato and San Jose districts—the fourth vote on such a proposal.

He said the proposal could be voted on every year without going back to the state board of education. If it had to go back to the state board after more than a year, the unification must follow high school district lines—which would be San Jose with San Rafael—he reported.

Teachers will have tenure and leave rights protected and the classified personnel will have their leave and tenure rights protected, plus their salaries for one year, if the unification is successful, he assured the audience.

James Douglas McNeil of Novato, speaking for the unification, said the two districts should be combined so they would be identified as one community. Other advantages for unification, he said, were that high school students could attend the school in their own community without having to face the dangers of Highway 101, and have an uninterrupted program from kindergarten through high school.

James Adair of the San Jose District said that if the two districts merged "the new board could choose the best in the curriculum from both districts for the new district."

Speaking against unification, Floyd Fisher of San Jose argued the San Jose District should be kept seperate because its educational program has higher standards. He cited its library system, education of the partially blind, resource teachers, advanced mathematics program, and outdoor camping program as examples.

Organizing Of Nurses Under Way

Work at organizing nurses at Marin General Hospital into the Hospital and Institutional Workers Union has been under way since last month with small discussion groups between some nurses and Ed Collins, field representative for Union Local 250.

Timothy Twomey, secretary-treasurer in the local's San Francisco office, said today there appear to be "quite a few problems" between the nursing staff and the administration. These resolve mainly around the "so-called merit system" of promotion, he said.

A meeting sponsored by the Marin County Nurses Assn. at the Civic Center last night brought a crowd of 108 to hear a discussion of "professionalism versus unionism."

Mrs. Mary Clark, association president, said none of last night's speakers spoke strongly in favor of a union.

Mother In Novato Warned Of Blaze

Two passing motorists stopped simultaneously yesterday to warn a Novato mother that her home was on fire.

Startled, Mrs. Allan Boyd, the resident, ran to a bedroom from which smoke was pouring. She had put her 4-year-old daughter, Kimberly, to bed in the room for a nap.

Flames were leaping from the bed. There was no sign of Kimberly. The frantic mother ran outdoors—to find her daughter playing unconcernedly with neighbor children.

Meantime, Mrs. Norman Burns, next door, had turned in the fire alarm on being alerted by Mrs. Charles Louwaert of 121 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, one of the passing motorists who stopped to warn Mrs. Boyd.

Mrs. Louwaert and Mrs. John Leisenring of Florida, a Novato visitor, stopped at 11:45 a.m., both seeing smoke from the end of the house opposite to that where Mrs. Boyd was working in the front yard.

Novato firemen doused the blaze before it spread beyond the bedroom.

Capt. George Hale of the fire department was cut on his right cheek while fighting the blaze. His son, Larry, a volunteer, was cut on the left hand as they threw the blazing mattress out the window.

Fire Chief George Cavallero said a cord to a lamp had short-circuited to start the blaze. The floor and mattress had burned, and the heat became so intense the bed springs were partially melted, he reported.

Two Intoxicated Drivers Fined

Two men were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Aeneas Clifford Rotsel, 56, of 1064-C Los Gamos, San Rafael, was fined $166 following his arrest Sept. 11 on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol.

Bernard Robert Fogarty, 44, Daly City, was arrested Tuesday by the patrol, also on Highway 101. He was fined $220.

Demos Take Stands On Propositions

The Marin Democratic Central Committee met Wednesday night in the San Rafael courthouse, with vice chairman Hadden W. Roth presiding, and took these stands:

Vote "yes" on County Measure A, the proposal to have 200 units federally financed low rent housing for elderly in Marin County.

Vote "yes" on State Propositions 1 (state beaches and parks bond), 2 (bond issue for construction of colleges, correctional institutions and others), and 3 (bonds for school building in needy districts).

Vote "no" on State Proposition 16 (lottery) and 17 (initiative against railroad "featherbedding").

The committee also reaffirmed its stand against Proposition 14, which would outlaw the Rumford Act and other housing legislation.

Johnson Is Using Nikita Ouster

COMBINED AP & UPI

President Johnson has tried to use the replacement of Nikita Khrushchev as an argument for keeping a Democrat—Lyndon B. Johnson—in the White House.

Johnson broached this approach last night in winding up a two-day swing through New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

Addressing a Johnson-backing Liberal Party rally in Manhattan's Madison Square Garden, the President said: "Changes and uncertainties in this busy world where we live give great weight to our own need for a stable, sure, steady course on the basis of a steady bipartisan foreign policy."

Lest anyone miss his point, Johnson added that voters could toss bipartisanship in foreign affairs "down the drain" on Nov. 3 —"but I don't think you're going to." Previously, Johnson repeatedly had expressed the view that a GOP election victory would destroy bipartisanship.

Johnson got another good taste of big crowds — and it elated him—yesterday in Brooklyn. His motorcade was greeted by tens of thousands of people—so many, in fact, that police refused to estimate the number.

All along the 33-mile route, Johnson was flanked by Robert F. Kennedy, his former attorney general now the Democratic Senate candidate in New York.

HUBERT HUMPHREY
A plume for senator's cap

The president took every opportunity to praise Kennedy and call for his election, and he referred to him repeatedly as "Senator Kennedy."

The younger brother of John F. Kennedy spoke, in turn, of his "affection and admiration" for Johnson.

GOLDWATER

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. — GOP presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater promised today he will "never jerk the rug from under the American farmer."

His pledge was the highlight of a day carrying him into the northern farm belt from Houston, Tex., where last night he said that "no matter who speaks for it, communism will never bury us."

That was Goldwater's first utterance on the leadership shakeup in Russia which displaced Khrushchev. The senator and his advisers were waiting to know more about the Kremlin turnover before saying anything more specific.

HUMPHREY

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who was scheduled to follow Goldwater to the platform at the National Corn Picking Contest at Sioux Falls, charged the GOP candidate intends to get rid of the farm problem "by getting rid of farmers."

The Minnesota senator also was to cross paths with Goldwater at the annual "rivercade" celebration at Sioux City, Iowa, though it was not expected they would meet. Humphrey planned an appearance at Dubuque, Iowa, winding up his day with an address before a Democratic fund-raising dinner at Indianapolis, Ind.

In his Sioux Falls speech, Humphrey said:

"The leader of the Goldwaterites intends to make a shambles of agriculture and all related business. He was the author of these immortal words:

"'Doing something about it means — and there can be no equivocation here—prompt and final termination of the farm subsidy program.'

"This declaration has revealed a chasm between him and every national farm group. It has separated him from the ablest Republican farm spokesmen in Congress. You know that such a federal policy would bankrupt American agriculture and erode the businesses that depend upon agriculture for their income . . ."

MILLER

And at Duluth, Minn., Republican William Miller charged today his vice-presidential rival Hubert Humphrey is "blind on communism."

Miller criticized Humphrey in Humphrey's home state. It was Miller's first campaign swing through Minnesota.

Miller told a breakfast gathering:

"I shudder to think of what would happen to our beloved America if Humphrey should ever become president.

"Nowhere else except in Lyndon Johnson can we find such a record of naivete and blindness to communism as in Hubert Humphrey."

Meningitis Girl Remains Serious

MERCED (UPI) — Ten-year-old Darlene Basue of Stevenson remained in serious condition with meningitis today but Merced County Hospital officials said the girl continued to respond to treatment.

County Health authorities said no more cases of the disease have been reported since Darlene entered the hospital Tuesday night.

French Film Set

"A Dog, A Mouse and A Sputnik," a French film, will be shown at 7 p.m. today at the Redwood High School Little Theater. It is the second of nine foreign language film showings planned in the Tamalpais High School District sponsored by Phi Lambda Sigma, foreign language honor society.

Marin Editor Hurt In Crash

The editor of three Marin County weekly newspapers was injured early today when her car left the road and got hung up on the curbing of a parking lot at 2555 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Fairfax.

Marcia Ann Sackett, who edits the Ross Valley Times, Corte Madera Times and Tiburon Peninsula Pelican, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut and bruised nose.

Miss Sackett, 29, of 400 Canal Street, San Rafael, was traveling east on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and failed to follow the road when it curved to the left. The car ended up in the bushes and flower bed which surround the parking lot of an apartment house.

We put these IDEAS into ACTION to bring you a better newspaper

This is NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK. The best way to observe it, we think, is to show you some of the new advances and improvements we've made this year . . . which in turn make the I-J a more meaningful, more complete newspaper.

In February, the I-J added a complete daily BUSINESS & FINANCE PAGE . . . including 500 New York stock listings which offer readers a special advantage—today's closing prices today.

We increased our coverage of both local and national news. And set it in a brand new type face for easier reading.

To bring you a man-sized SPORTS SECTION, we added the complete Associated Press SPORTS WIRE . . . with world-wide coverage coming in 22 hours a day.

On October 3, another ambitious step: the complete New York stock list showing the full weekly range . . . a new feature now running each Saturday.

To handle this extra news load the I-J invested in still more electronic equipment which actually sets type from tape—a major advance in newspaper publication.

We had still other ideas: why not more color photography in both regular and special editions? Why not experiment with color inks for better printing? We're doing it . . .

And with more news has come more advertising, more features . . . a weightier newspaper, both in content and number of pages.

If this keeps up we'll have to make it NATIONAL NEWSPAPER YEAR. Maybe that's not such a bad idea.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Economy Gains Predicted Rate

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — American consumers spent at least two billion dollars more this summer than they did in the spring months. So they can claim the credit today for keeping the nation's economy right on its predicted rate of gain.

Some other sectors of the economy slowed a bit in the July-August-September quarter, but the rate at which citizens parted with their money speeded up.

And with the final quarter of the year under way, and hopes high for a record volume of production and spending, 1964 seems sure to see that biggest statistic of them all, the gross national product, hit the record 623 billion dollar that was predicted in January by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

There are worries and possible roadblocks. There are the uncertainties of a presidential election. The slowdown in home building is a drag right now. But on balance the prospects are still bright.

The gross national product is the dollar value of all the goods and services produced in the nation. Consumer spending is the biggest item, and sooner or later affects most of the others.

As the final three months started, consumer spending was running at an estimated annual rate of 404.5 billion dollars. The Commerce Department says this was a gain of 8.4 billion dollars at an annual rate from the April - May - June quarter when such spending had risen 6.1 billion dollars at an annual rate from the first three months of the year.

Despite the zeal with which the consumer spent his money, the entire increase of the economy was at a slower pace in the summer months.

In each of the first two quarters of the year, the gross national product was going up at a 9.8 - billion - dollar clip. The third quarter advance was 8.9 billion dollars.

But it was enough to bring the annual rate to 627.5 billion dollars. With a good final spurt in these final months, the year should average out close to the 623-billion-dollar total predicted.

This would be a 39.1-billion-dollar advance over 1963's total of 563.9 billion dollars. This year's increase would be well above the 27.7-billion-dollar advance of 1963 over the previous year's total 556.2 billion dollars.

Only Slight Faltering Over Red China Bomb

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today in active trading.

News that Red China had exploded its first atomic bomb caused only a slight faltering in the rally.

As the session neared its end, prices were near their best levels of the day.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.2 million shares compared with 6.59 million yesterday.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to more than a point along a broad front.

Wall Street was digesting the political events in Russia and Britain and seemed to have gotten over yesterday's uncertainty. The rise was dampened slightly by the news from China but at no time did the list show a loss.

The leading motors, most steels, aerospace issues, electrical equipments, nonferrous metals, airlines, building materials, office equipments, rails and electronics moved higher.

Xerox rose 3, Du Pont and Control Data 2, IBM and Westinghouse Electric more than a point each.

Norfolk and Western gained more than 3. Up about 2 each were Hudson Bay Mining, Eagle-Picher, Cerro and Great Northern Paper.

Up a point or more were Technical Materiel, Skelly Oil, Sinclair, American Potash, Amphenol-Borg, Cox Broadcasting, Disney, SCM Corp., Dymo Industries, Filtrol, North American Aviation, Northwest Airlines, Richfield Oil, McDonnell Aircraft, MCA, Lockheed, Grumman and General Tire.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed as investors tried to assess the impact of the Labor party victory. U.S. government bonds drifted slightly lower.

Medic Building Planned

Plans for erection of a $625,000 medical building near Marin General Hospital have been announced by Schultz Building Co. of Greenbrae.

Niels Schultz Jr. said the building will be located on a four-acre site at the northeast corner of Bon Air Road and South Eliseo Drive, south of the main entrance to the hospital.

Preliminary plans being drawn by architects R. R. Zahm and Jack Hermann call for a three-story structure with 24,000 square feet of floor space for offices and approximately 3,000 square feet for a pharmacy and other allied uses, as the initial phase of the project. There will be accommodations for about 30 doctors and parking for 120 cars. Upper floors will be serviced by an elevator.

The building is being designed for later expansion to accommodate as many as 100 doctors, Schultz said.

Completion is scheduled for early 1966.

He said sales are about 12 per cent above the 1963 level.

Full House Spreads Its Applause At Liberal-Conservative Debate

By JEFF GREER

Liberalism was equated with humanitarianism, and conservativism branded "a kind of egocentrism" by Dr. Urban Whitaker in last night's debate on "liberalism vs. conservatism" sponsored by College of Marin.

"Conservatism believes this is the time for American to build bigger people, not bigger government," retorted Fulton Lewis III.

A full-house audience in Olney Hall spread its applause about evenly as the two speakers scored their points with differing opinions on local versus high-level government, foreign aid, welfare, education, censorship, and other topics of this election year. Each speaker also took a few swings at the other side's presidential candidate.

Whitaker is professor of international relations at San Francisco State College, sponsor of a national committee for abolition of the House Un-American Activities Committee, and United Nation's correspondent for Pacifica Foundation. Lewis is a special assistant to Republican vice presidential candidate William E. Miller, national field director of the conservative Young Americans for Freedom, research director for the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and narrator of the controversial film, "Operation Abolition," on the riot at the San Francisco City Hall when the House probers met there.

Dr. Whitaker cited dictionary definitions to open the debate.

A liberal favors change in orderly fashion, he said. A conservative wants to "save" what already exists; a radical wants to change drastically; a reactionary wants to change back to the way things were in a bygone day.

The liberal's position is that "we have an overwhelming interest in all mankind," Dr. Whitaker argued.

He pointed out that any person is by turns liberal, conservative, or even radical or reactionary, according to the problem at hand.

"I'm a conservative when it comes to fair housing" he declared, because he wants to save the Rumford Act. "You might even say I'm a reactionary when it comes to travel" because he wants a return to unrestricted travel by Americans to all nations, including Iron Curtain countries and China.

Conservatism, said Lewis, has "a great trust in the energy and ability of the people," while liberals have "fear and distrust" of the people and want government to lead rather than be a servant to the people. The conservative seeks "new ways to transfer the decisions back to the people . . . With true freedom, the material things will come."

"A conservatist understands," Lewis declared, "that no government can ever give you anything without taking it first. Any government so big it can give you everything, can take everything."

Whitaker, said Lewis, "is trapped in a fallacy—that government is an it — 'way out there. Government is people."

The professor challenged what he termed Lewis' "do-it-yourself government" be demanding to know how he would provide "do-it-yourself defense, do-it-yourself postal service, do-it-yourself highways."

Lewis replied that some services must be provided only by going one level higher into government. But, he stressed, by turning to a city government to perform services, the individual becomes "one voice in 5,000 . . . in the county one voice in 190,000 . . . in the state one voice in millions. The liberals say take it all the way to Washington, D.C. Then, your voice is reduced to one in 190 million."

Lewis criticized federal aid to education on grounds that for every $5 Californians put into the program through taxes, only $3 would be returned to the state.

"It seems to me a proper thing to do," replied Whitaker. "In California we can afford $5 or more. I feel safer to have education for the people of Mississippi."

Lewis read letters from President Lyndon B. Johnson's Senate days, to prove he was then an ardent states-righter and had imposed racial restrictions on sale of real estate.

Whitaker read from writings and speeches of Sen. Barry Goldwater which called for a nationwide right to work law, banning the union shop, establishment of a trusteeship to control and guide Africa's emerging nations.

Questioned by a College of Marin student as to his views on censorship, Lewis said "There is a limit to which you can go in free speech. The conservative, as does the liberal, feels that censorship is justified —but where does a piece of literature become so obnoxious that we would ban it?"

"I think the heartwarming thing is that this country is absolutely open—what you believe, you can say so," opined Whitaker.

Questioned by a newspaperman following the debate, Lewis reported that last night's meeting between the two speakers was "the fifth or sixth time."

Kettenhofen Talks On Flood Control

A "non-political" discussion of flood control projects for Corte Madera Creek and the proposed route of Highway 17 from Highway 101 to western Marin was presented to the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce yesterday by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, candidate for supervisor from the second district.

His opponent, incumbent William D Fusselman, has been invited to speak to the group but has not replied to the invitation, said Richard A. Kientz, chamber president.

MORAL CRISIS

Barry Goldwater says: "Americans everywhere are indignant about the moral decay in Washington and nobody should accept corruption in positions of public trust as a way of life. All it takes to clean it up is an administration that really wants it cleaned up—an administration with the moral courage to fire the influence peddlers and graft takers no matter whose friends they may be."

Keane Quits As Manager Of Cardinals!

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Johnny Keane, manager of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, has submitted his resignation in a letter to owner August A. Busch Jr. dated Sept. 28 —a week before the regular season ended.

Keane wrote that his resignation should be effective at the end of the last championship National League Game, whether it be the end of the regular season or the completion of the World Series.

ST. LOUIS — Lead Keane, sb11, insert after 2nd graf," Keane wrote xxx world series."

The resignation was accepted by Busch, who sat solemnly by Keane in his brewery's board of Directors room.

Busch had offered Keane a substantial raise over his salary of this year.

Keane, smiling only occasionally, sat at Busch's left. He said:

"I don't have a job. I'm open to suggestions, but I'm not interested in the minor leagues."

Keane denied xxx 3rd graf sb11.

Keane denied reports that he would take the managerial job at Pittsturgh, vacated by Danny Murtaugh. There also has been some talk that Keane could wind up in New York as a coach and heir apparent to Mets Manager Casey Stengel.

It was not known immediately where Busch would seek a new manager, but he did talk to Leo Durocher, former manager of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, while the Cardinals were still battling for the pennant.

Keane seemed to be headed out late in August as the Cardinals were running fourth in the pennant race, a whopping 11 games back. But they began to close ground at the end, reeled off eight consecutive victories at one point late in September and eventually clinched the pennant on the last day of the season.

The Cardinals then wound up the successful comeback yesterday by beating the New York Yankees in the seventh and deciding game of the World Series.

In the final days of the season Busch offered Keane a new contract. But Keane told the Cardinal club owner he would not make a decision until the end of the season.

Keane's position as manager had been shaky ever since General Manager Bing Devine was fired Aug. 17 in a hassle with Busch. Devine is now assistant to the president of the Mets, George Weiss.

Keane, a member of the Cardinal organization 35 years, said he regretted "the necessity of this decision" and expressed his gratitude to the people of St. Louis for their kindness. He said he was resigning "with the friendliest of feelings and wished nothing but success to Busch and to your kind Cardinal team."

The letter read:

"Dear Mr. Busch:

"This is to submit my resignation as field manager of the St. Louis Cardinals effective at the end of the last championship National League game, whether it be at the end of the regular season or at the completion of the World Series.

"I want you to know that I have enjoyed working for you since you have owned the Cardinals as well as the many years I spent within the organization prior to that time.

"I regret very much the necessity of this decision, especially severing the close relations I have had with so many of the Cardinal personnel.

"I wish also to express my gratitude to the city of St. Louis and to the St. Louis people for being so kind to me and my family for so many years, and to the Cardinal players who have been so loyal and to whom I am deeply indebted for a full effort 100 per cent of the time.

"I resign my position with the friendliest of feelings and wish nothing but success to you and to your fine Cardinal team.

"Respectfully your, Johnny Keane."

U.S. CAGERS STRUGGLE FOR 43RD WIN IN ROW

TOKYO (AP) — The U.S. Olympic basketball team, apparently feeling the pressure of an ever-extending winning streak, had considerable difficulty before subduing Yugoslavia 69-61 today for its 43rd consecutive victory.

Coach Hank Iba admitted earlier in the tournament that the all-star aggregation was beginning to feel the pressure of maintaining American prestige in the sport. The United States has not lost a game since basketball was added to the Olympic program in 1936.

While the United States was having trouble bringing its record at the Tokyo Games to 5-0, Russia also was having trouble winning No. 5 against a small Japanese team 72-59.

U. S. Captures Four More Gold Medals

World Mark By Cal Girl Swimmer

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

TOKYO (AP)—Sharon Stouder, 15-year-old schoolgirl from Glendora, Calif., smashed another world record, collected her third Olympic medal and led the United States forces through another day of highly-productive competition in the Olympic Games today.

The United States added four gold medals and eight over-all to its growing collection of Olympic hardware and now leads with 42—19 golds, 11 silver and 12 bronze. Russia has 27 — 9 gold, 7 silver and 11 bronze.

The other U.S. gold medal winners were hurdler Rex Cawley, who was so excited he forgot the pain in his leg; Wyomia Tyus, a world record holder who wasn't supposed to win, and the men's 400-meter medley relay swimming team.

But the star of the show was the impatient Miss Stouder, a 5-foot-8 blonde who attends Glendora High School.

She swept to a world record time of 1:04.7 in the women's 100-meter butterfly final and notched her second gold medal of the Games. She also swam on a winning relay team, became only the second woman to break 60 seconds in the 100-meter freestyle when she finished second to Australia's incomparable Dawn Fraser in that event, and has a chance for a fourth medal as a member of the favored U.S. 400-meter medley relay team.

She's ready for it.

"I want to win that one Sunday and then get out on the town, see some of Tokyo," the pretty teen-ager said.

The men's 400-meter medley relay team, composed of Thompson Mann of Chesapeake, Va., Bill Craig of Glendale, Calif., Fred Schmidt of Northbrook, Ill., and Steve Clark of Los Altos, Calif., also broke the world record, winning in 3:58.4 before a packed house that included Emperor Hirohito.

NINE RECORDS

In all, nine world swimming records have been broken and one tied and the powerful U.S. swimming team has collected 24 medals, including 11 gold.

Cawley, a 24-year-old graduate student at Southern California, who had been bothered by a leg ailment, had his troubles before winning the 400-meter hurdles in 49.6.

He couldn't find his footing on the first seven hurdles, then finally found his form and pulled away from the opposition, marking the sixth straight time an American has won the event.

Miss Tyus, who had matched the world record of 11.2 in the qualifying rounds of the women's 100-meter dash Thursday, took the final by about two yards over her Tennessee State teammate, Edith McGuire. Miss McGuire had been favored.

Miss Tyus a slim, 19-year-old co-ed, took the lead 10 meters out and raced away from the others with every stride as she succeeded another Tennessee State product, the great Wilma Rudolph, as queen of the Olympic sprinters.

Miss McGuire was second in 11.6, and it was almost a U.S. sweep. Poland's Wea Koldoukowska was third and Marilyn White of Los Angeles fourth, both in 11.6.

Jay Luck of Watertown, Mass., who had beaten Cawley in the U.S. trials, finished fifth and commented: "I just didn't run fast enough."

The medals in the hurdles and women's 100 were the only ones for the United States on the program of five track and field finals, but Army officers Lones Wigger and Tommy Pool gave a lift in shooting.

Wigger, a first lieutenant from Carter, Mont., took second in the small bore rifle prone position and Pool, a captain from Groom, Tex., was third behind Hungary's Laszlo Hammerl. Wigger scored 597 of a possible 600 and Pool 596.

OTHER WINNERS

Other track winners included world record-holder Peter Snell of New Zealand in the 800 meters, defending champion Jozef Schmidt of Poland in the triple jump and Mihalla Penes of Romania in the women's javelin. The United States was blanked in all three.

Snell won in 1:45.1, Schmidt with a leap of 55-3½ and Miss Penes with a throw of 198-7½. Ironically, Russia's Elena Gorchakova set a world record of 204-8½ in the preliminaries, but it didn't count toward the final placings and she ended up in third.

In other competition, the U.S. placed Bill Dellinger, Springfield, Ore., and Bob Schul, West Milton, Ohio, in the finals of the 5,000-meter run; three U.S. sprinters went through two rounds of 200 meter dash eliminations; Carl Robie, Drexell Hill, Pa., flailed to an Olympic record 2:10 flat and led a three-man advance through the 200-meter butterfly heats and the U.S. women's 400-meter medley relay team made it into the finals.

The Series In A Nutshell

By JOE REICHLER

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The New York Yankees hit most of the home runs. The St. Louis Cardinals got most of the timely hits.

The Yankees made mistakes. The Cardinals took advantage of the breaks.

The American League champions lost their pitching ace, Whitey Ford, after the first game, with an arm injury that was kept secret until the final game. The Cardinals' pitching ace, Bob Gibson, performed brilliantly in an iron-man role.

This, in a nutshell, is why the Cardinals are the champions of baseball today after having won the seventh and final game of the World Series from the Yankees 7-5 yesterday.

This is why the Cardinals maintained their unblemished record of never having lost a full length World Series. It was their fifth such series victory, their seventh in 10 post season classics and their third in five head-to-head meetings with the Yankees.

And now the victorious Cardinals and the near capacity crowd of 30,346 at Busch Stadium whooped it up after Gibson had ended the game by disposing of Bobby Richardson on a soft popup to second baseman Dal Maxvill.

Trumpets blared, horns tooted, partisan St. Louis rooters shouted themselves hoarse and hundreds poured out on the field as the deliriously happy white-uniformed players jumped all over each other.

The players embraced Gibson, who had literally pitched his arm off with only two days rest. They hugged Manager Johnny Keane, who finally had a world championship after 27 years of managing. They hugged Ken Boyer, whose big bat had been instrumental in all three run-scoring innings. They hugged Maxvill, the utility infielder who had done such a fine job filling in for the ailing Julian Javier.

They hugged catcher Timmy McCarver, the Cards' most consistent and outstanding hitter in the series. They hugged Butch Yatkeman, the little clubhouse man, who has been with the club longer than anybody else. They hugged each other.

All six previous games were wrapped up in yesterday's finale. As before, the Yankees hit more homers, made more errors, while the Cards got the timely hits and took advantage of the enemy's lapses.

The Yankees slammed three home runs, by Mickey Mantle, Clete Boyer and Phil Linz. But they committed two errors and were guilty of other loose play which does not show in the box score.

The Cardinals, on the other hand, hit two home runs — by Lou Brock and Ken Boyer — but erred only once and played daringly, aggressively and smartly. They out hit the Yankees by only 10 to nine, but turned seven of their hits into runs.

On the other hand, the Yankees failed to score in the first five innings although they had

Stanford Versus Huskies

Washington's Huskies invade Stanford tomorrow, battling to prove their coach is right.

"We are a better team than our record 1-3 indicates," said the mentor, Jim Owens. "We just aren't putting all phases of our game together to form a solid attack."

A 9-7 loss to Oregon State last Saturday left the Huskies a long haul in their bid to repeat as Pacific Athletic Conference champions and win another trip to the Rose Bowl.

Stanford could surprise again as the Indians did a week ago with a fourth quarter uprising which brought a 34-7 upset over Rice, one of the top rated clubs of the Southwest Conference.

The Indians have the nation's top collegiate rusher in Ray Handley who has gained 463 yards in four games. They also could spring a passing attack with Terry DeSylvia or Dick Berg throwing.

Berg marched the Indians to their tying touchdown against rice, completing three passes. Five more scores followed intercepted passes.

Each team will watch No. 66 on defense. For Washington he's

Navy-Cal May Draw 70,000

Zeroed in by Michigan and Georgia Tech the past two weeks Navy sails out for a counter-attack tomorrow against California's football forces at Berkeley.

The Middies can't count on their field skipper Roger Staubauch and they must stop the aerial bombardment of Craig Morton to steer a winning course.

Staubauch, the All America and Heisman Trophy winner of 1963, was released from sick bay but his ankle injury will limit his activities and he won't start.

In the East, Coach Wayne Hardin sent his Navy crew through training maneuvers aimed at shooting down Morton's air attack.

At California, Coach Ray Willsey had his charges working like troopers trying to advance on the ground and stop Navy marches.

A crowd upward of 70,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff in Cal's Memorial Stadium.

Cal quarterback Morton leads the nation's collegiate passers, having hit 67 of 107 throws for 807 yards and five touchdowns. Only one has been picked off by an enemy.

Bill White Of World Champions Tabbed 'Goat' Of World Series

CONNOLLY

If you were asked to pick a "goat" for the 1964 World Series who would you pick?

It is unusual to select a player from the winning club. But if you insist, why not Bill White, St. Louis Card first sacker. He should get honorable mention, whether it is according to Hoyle or not. He was a big disappointment in six of the seven games.

Mickey Mantle, despite his home run hitting, played the outfield like Willie McCovey of the Giants.

Bobby Richardson, Yank second sacker, had a strangle hold on the goat honors, but he hit more than any other World Series player and escaped the horrible honor.

Phil Linz, a sub shortstop, asleep, almost cost the Yanks a ball game, walking stupidly off second base and throwing badly all during the series.

Some folks think Yogi Berra, Yankee manager, could be the big bum of the series on account he allowed sentimentality to interfere with his choice of the starting pitcher for the opening game of the series.

YOGI, FOR many years a catcher for Whitey Ford, elected that Whitey should start the series and against the odds that Jim Bouton, the youngster, who did so much to help the Yanks capture the American League flag.

Yogi also gets a zero mark in calling on Mel Stottlemyre three times in seven games.

So if you size up Yogi you got to admit he was playing stupid and playing dumb. But can a manager be called the "goat" of a World Series?

THE GOAT of a World Series should be a player who has hit the bottom oftener.

Bill White of the Cards wins all the way. He came up time after time when a simple silly single would turn the trick and failed. He did do his bit in the seventh game, however.

Although you will never be able to prove it, there will always be in my mind the thought that managers — both Johnny Keane and Yogi Berra—played the series from memory.

Roger Craig of the Cards earned a right to start a game on his relief work alone. But he never got it.

Clete Boyer, Bobby Richardson, Joe Pepitone, Mickey Mantle and Phil Linz of the Yanks owe their World Series check to charity. They never earned it in the seven-game series.

KEN BOYER, Dick Groat and Bill White were flops in the series, based on their work during the season.

Tim McCarver and Elston Howard were the only players on the squad who played up to their form of the 1964 season.

I'd have to say that Roger Maris, Tommy Tresh and everybody else on the club played so-so ball.

Curt Flood, Lou Brock and Bill White looked like they choked in the first six games of the series. They redeemed themselves in the last game. But they flopped just the same.

What A Way To Die, Breedlove Thought

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — "What a way to die," Craig Breedlove thought as his jet-powered car headed for a crash after reaching a speed of 539.9 miles per hour.

But he didn't die. He wasn't even hurt.

His car finally slowed down and nosed into a salt water pool on the western Utah salt flats yesterday.

"I'm ail right baby, what's the speed?"

Those were his words to the first person who reached him after he climbed out of his car and got to dry land.

His speed was 539.90 m.p.h. on that run.

During his first run he was clocked at 513.33. The average speed, which goes down in the books as the record, was 526.26 m.p.h.

The 28-year-old Californian thus became the first man to drive a car over 500 m.p.h.

On his second run Thursday he reached 539.90 m.p.h. over the measured mile. Two runs, going and coming, are required for a record.

He throttled down and released one of the parachutes which helps slow down the car.

"It ripped to shreds," he said, "I was going too fast.

"I coasted a couple of miles before trying the second 'chute, but it was still too fast. It also ripped to shreds."

The brakes didn't help much, either. Breedlove estimated he was going 350 m.p.h. when he came to the end of the 10-mile track.

"I thought I was dead," he said, "And I thought, 'What a way to die'."

The 38-foot, J-47 jet-powered car hit two telephone poles three miles later, skidded into a dike and into 18 feet of water.

Terra Linda Guns For Sixth Straight Win Tonight

Marin Catholic Faces Trojans At Kentfield

Expected to win their sixth straight game of the season, the undefeated Terra Linda High School Trojans will take on Marin Catholic's Wildcats tonight at 8 o'clock in a Marin Athletic League grid battle in College of Marin stadium, Kentfield.

For Terra Linda it has been a story of a fine balanced attack, the Trojans being able to strike for big yardage both in the air and on the ground.

The schedule couldn't have been any rougher on Marin Catholic. First three games of the MAL season called for the Wildcats to match wits and brawn against the three top teams of the league. Marin lost its opener with Novato, 43-0, then fell to Drake last week 33-0. Now the Wildcats have to jump back into the fire against T.L.

Leading the Terra Linda air game is quarterback Gary Lieberman, listed as the second top passer in Northern California prep football. In six games, he has completed 37 of 72 passes for 589 yards. For the two league encounters, Gary has connected on 16 of 31 attempts for 254 yards, giving him the leadership in the MAL.

Through the seasons, halfback Rick Edwards is the leading runner for the Trojans, but in league play it has been Tim Garvin. Edwards has gained 347 yards in 40 carries for the year, and has scored a total of 47 points. In MAL play, Garvin is fifth from the top in league rushing with 108 yards in 11 carries.

Top runner for Marin Catholic is halfback Lu Ercolini with a total of 270 yards.

T.L. coach Pete Limm will make quite a few defensive changes to find out about his depth. Brian Perron and Ray Noonan will start at the defensive tackle spots, Lee Bright, Pete Cowger and Eldon Miles will see action at defensive end. Defensive backs will include Sid Norman, Craig Hill, John Forry and Fred Daniele.

Flu Hits San Rafael Gridders

San Rafael and Redwood high schools meet tomorrow afternoon in a very important Marin Athletic League football game for both teams. Kickoff for the contest is slated for 2 p.m. in College of Marin stadium, Kentfield.

Each team lost its league opener—San Rafael to Tam 13-0, and Redwood to Drake 28-6—so now have 0-1 records in league play. Another loss for either team will almost certainly knock it out of title contention.

San Rafael coach Bob Muster has been fighting with the flu bug this past week, with as many as 11 gridders out of school at the same time with the illness. Besides the flu, lineman Lou Nielsen has a bad ankle and fullback Rocky Shone cut his head in an off-the-field injury. Center Bill O'Bayley is definitely out of tomorrow's game with a head injury sustained last week against Tam.

San Rafael is hoping for an improved passing game against Redwood. The Bulldogs gained only 22 yards in the air against Tam.

From Redwood, it was reported from coach Bob Troppmann that linebacker Bill Niccolls, a junior, will be out the remainder of the season with an injured knee.

Scott Murphy is scheduled to start at quarterbacking for the Giants but Ed Hutchison will also see action there. Providing most of the running game for the Redwood 11 tomorrow will probably be halfback Dan Salata, the team's top ground-gainer.

Novato Favored Over Sonoma '11'

Novato High School's Hornets grid team, getting a breather from Marin Athletic League action this weekend, will travel to neighboring Sonoma tonight for a practice game. Kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

Novato is 1-1 in MAL play, winning its opener from Marin Catholic 43-0, and then losing to Terra Linda 20-13. The Hornets already have two practice game victories this year and will be favored in tonight's battle with Sonoma of the North Bay II League.

Leading the Novato offense are tailback Dick Otis and quarterback Don Phillips. Otis has rushed for 194 yards in two league games and a total of 421 in all four games of the season. His average in league play is 6.9 per carry and 7-1 overall. He's one of the top scorers in northern California prep football with 36 points on six touchdowns.

Phillips has passed for 160 yards in two league games and a total of 291 yards on the season, hitting 21 of 36 attempts. That combination gives the Hornets a strong two-pronged attack.

USC-Ohio State In TVer

The nationally-televised Ohio State-Southern California contest tomorrow headlines another big day on the nation's college gridirons. The Buckeye-Trojan TVer will be carried by NBC (Channel 4) starting at 11 a.m., PDT.

Pats Favored By 10 Over Raiders Tonight

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Patriots are 10-point favorites to hand the Oakland Raiders their sixth straight loss tonight when the two teams clash in American Football League action.

CADET BACK NAMED TV'S PREP OF WEEK

Roger Ulrich, outstanding halfback for the San Rafael Military Academy, was named winner of Channel 7's "TV Prep Player of the Week" award by Bay Area newspaper prep sportswriters.

The 6-foot 1-inch senior was chosen for his superlative efforts in leading the Cadets to a 19-12 triumph over St. Vincent's of Petaluma in a KGO-TV "High School Football" telecast last Saturday.

Ulrich passed for a 65-yard touchdown, took a swing pass for a 22-yard third quarter touchdown, and kicked an extra point to cinch the Cadet victory before a home crowd.

Ulrich will receive a handsome trophy at a special school assembly.

New Speed Mark At Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Bobby Marhsman of Pottstown, Pa., holder of the unofficial one-lap at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, raised his mark yesterday to 161.1 miles an hour.

Marshman was running a tire test in the Lotus-Ford which Parnelli Jones drove to victory in a recent race at Trenton, N.J.

Marshman was timed last May at 160 miles an hour for a lap at the 2½-mile track.

Giant Publicist Labeled Source Of Cepeda Story

Garry Schumacher, public relations chief of the San Francisco Giants, has been named as front office source for last year's Look Magazine article on Orlando Cepeda.

Cepeda has sued the magazine for $1 million in damages.

In a deposition read here yesterday, Look Sports Editor Tim Cohane said Schumacher told him Cepeda was temperamental and expendable, and Cohane said he used parallel language to Schumacher's in the story.

But Cohane added that "over a period of five years, every official of the Giants has told me Cepeda was temperamental." Cohane specifically mentioned owner Horace Stoneham and chief scout Tom Sheehan.

The case was originally thrown out of U.S. District Court last year but the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has since ordered the case re-tried. The new trial will probably be early next year in the district court here.

WORLD SERIES IN A NUTSHELL

Mistakes, Injury To Ford Prove Costly To Yankees

five base-runners against Gibson. They failed to take advantage of an error by shortstop Dick Groat that filled the bases in the second.

Mel Stottlemyre, the young rookie right-hander, also working with just two days rest, kept pace with Gibson for three innings. In the fourth, however, he was betrayed by a teammate and the Cardinals quickly took advantage to pile up a 3-0 lead.

There were runners on first and second with nobody out when McCarver hit a potential double play grounder to Joe Pepitone. The first baseman's throw to Linz forced Groat but the shortstop's relay sailed past Pepitone and Boyer scored on the error.

Mike Shannon followed with a single and there were runners on first and third with one out.

Then came the play that proved to be the turning point of the game. With Maxvill at bat, the Cards successfully pulled off a double steal, McCarver scoring. A pair of errant throws by catcher Elston Howard and second baseman Richardson made the daring play work. It also put Shannon in position to score the third run on a single by Maxvill.

More More

"I didn't see McCarver break for the plate," Richardson later explained. "If I'd seen him, I would have moved in 10 feet in front of the bag and McCarver would have been out by 10 feet."

Oddly enough, as Manager Keane disclosed later, a double steal had not been intended.

"It started out as a hit-and-run and ended in a double steal," said Keane. "Richardson, a smart player, guessed it and that's why he wasn't on the base in time to take Howard's throw. He was moving to his left when Maxvill swung but Dal missed the ball.

"By the time he retraced his steps and got to second it was too late to tag Shannon. McCarver ran on the throw and caught Richardson by surprise."

The Cards stretched their lead to 6-0 in the fifth. Southpaw Al Downing had replaced Stottlemyre by then and was routed in an awful hurry. He made only four pitches. Brock hit the first one for a home run. Bill White slammed the second for a single and Ken Boyer drove Downing's second serve to him for a double.

Mantle's homer with two mates aboard in the sixth cut the Cards' margin to 6-3 but St. Louis added another in the seventh on Boyer's third hit of the game, his second homer of the series.

Home runs by Clete Boyer and Linz in the ninth merely tightened the score. The game ended when Richardson, whose two hits had increased his overall total to 13, a series record, popped meekly to Maxvill.

It was the second victory in three attempts for Gibson, who had fanned 13 batters in a 5-2 winning performance in the fifth game last Monday. This time he struck out nine to increase his series total to 31, another record.

Waterfowl Season Is Scheduled To Open In Some Areas Oct 24

STEVENS

A week from Saturday, on Oct. 24, the waterfowl season will open in five waterfowl areas. They are: Grizzly Island, Solano County; San Luis Wasteway and Los Banos, Merced County; Mendota, Fresno County, and Imperial, Imperial County.

Scheduled to open Oct. 31 are Gray Lodge, Colusa, Sutter, Delevan, Sacramento, and Merced. Honey Lake has been open since last Saturday. The northeastern season opened Tuesday.

Shooting days will be Saturdays, Sundays, and Wednesdays in all areas except Ramer Lake where shooting is open every day of the week.

AN ADVANCE reservation system will be used again this year on all areas except Honey Lake and Ramer Lake areas. On these two, hunting will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

You can pick up an application for reservation wherever licenses are sold. Ask for a waterfowl management area booklet and the migratory bird regulation when you get your license.

Be prepared to ante up a fee of $3.50 per day on all management areas except Honey Lake where the fee is $3.50 per day or $6.50 for the season.

Several readers have asked if duck hunting is to be had ONLY in the above Waterfowl Management areas, or is it necessary to belong to a duck club? What about the free lance hunter? Is he restricted to a gun club or a co-op?

EVERY YEAR that question is asked, and every year I have given a negative reply. It is true that a good proportion of the available areas to hunt waterfowl is tied up, but there is still a vast amount of spots where the free-lance shooter may go to and shoot. Dozens of spots in the Delta region where the unattached hunter may get fair to good shooting. It's up to the individual to make a canvas of the Bay and Delta regions, to locate a sector which is on the bird flyway. Most of such area will be on private property, of course, and it will be necessary to get permission from the land owner to hunt. Also there are a number of shooting clubs where you can pay a fee and bang away. For the past few years the marshes controlled by the Leslie Salt Company have been opened to the public—no fee, or a slight one.

You can get in some good pass shooting in the upper San Pablo Bay. You can rent a row boat at a number of resorts in the upper Suisun Bay, along the shore from Port Costa to Pittsburg; pick out a likely looking and vacant island, hide the boat in the tules, set out your decoys and fare quite well. Some very successful duck hunters get in some exciting gunwork from such spots, and they can shoot every day in the week, if they wish.

WITH THE opener nine days away, and with Saturday, Sunday—and for some, Monday as well, you should be able to canvas, pick your spots and make all arrangements.

Let me caution you on one new regulation—you must bring home your birds with one feathered wing attached. Been a number of citations issued over failure to abide by this regulation, so don't be a loser.

STANFORD

Rick Redman, for Stanford, Jack Chapple. The two are among the best linebackers in the nation. Chapple twice has been named PAC lineman-of-the-week.

Washington boasts several solid running backs headed by powerful fullback Junior Coffey. Bill Douglas and Jim Sartoris have been alternating at quarterback. The halfback corps includes Charlie Browning and Ron Medved, a pair of 200-pounders, and scatback Steve Bramwell, a 159-pound scooter for spot duties.

Stanford sophomore Dave Lewis, who started as a quarterback, has established himself as the starting flanker back. This gives the Indians a man at that spot who can both catch passes and throw them.

Although his club has lost to Washington State and UCLA in the PAC, coach John Ralston declares flatly, "We're not out of the championship picture."

A crowd of about 30,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

Fight Is Postponed

OAKLAND (UPI)—A slight ankle injury to Paulie Armstead in a gym drill yesterday forced promoter Don Chargin to switch the state lightweight champion's Oct. 20 fight with Luis Molina to Oct. 29 in Oakland Auditorium.

Cal-Navy Clash

The Bears have victories over Missouri and Miami, Fla. with losses to Illinois and Minnesota.

Navy cruised over Penn State 21-8 and William and Mary 35-6. Staubauch suffered strained ligaments in his left ankle during the opener but saw some action against William & Mary and Michigan when the Middies lost 21-0.

After that game he was hospitalized and Navy fell to Georgia Tech 17-0, the first time since 1951 that Navy had been blanked two straight weeks.

Junior Bruce Bickel directed the team against Georgia Tech. So far this season Bickel has hit 19 of 46 passes for 239 yards.

More dangerous is the land attack. Halfback Kip Paskewich has averaged 7.3 yards a carry and fullback Pat Donnelly more than three yards at a crack in 48 carries.

Cal gets tackle John Rusev back for the game and Jim Pinson also may see some service. Tom Blanchfield, Tom Relles and Jim Blakeney are the backs expected to try to break the Middies screen.

BARBED BARRIER FOR BRIDGE JUMPERS

James F. Doyle of Sausalito shows a cross-section of a canopy he has designed to prevent would-be suicides from leaping off the Golden Gate Bridge. Wire mesh canopy, suspended to a height of nine feet above the sidewalk, would have three or four-inch apertures for view. Barbed wire would be placed over the canopy in rows every four inches. There would be sliding gates, at intervals, through the fence rail to permit men to get to the bridge's outer edge for maintenance. Doyle said he will present his idea to the Golden Gate Bridge District board. (Independent-Journal photo)

Car Pollution Control Devices Are Inspected

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — More than 2,000 inspections of official motor vehicle pollution control device stations have been made by the California Highway Patrol since Aug. 24.

Bradford M. Crittenden, CHP commissioner, said this amounted to about one-fourth of the existing 8,100 inspection stations in the 12 counties which have adopted the device installation-inspection program.

Since the program began, the licenses of three stations have been revoked. The patrol received 21 complaints on the inspection program during September, of which 11 were found to be valid and corrective measures taken.

"Inspection specialists are finding an average of 2.2 discrepancies per station," Crittenden said, "many dealing with incorrect posting of the station license or other bulletins. Virtually all are corrected on the spot."

The 12 counties in which the CHP inspection specialists are now operating include Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Bernardino, Orange, San Diego, Riverside, San Mateo, San Francisco, Santa Clara, Alameda, Contra Costa and Marin.

Speakers' Bureau Planned To Recruit Blood Donors

Formation of a county-wide speakers' bureau to recruit blood donors has been planned by the Marin Blood Center Advisory Committee.

"There is a real need for blood donors right now," Gloria Gibala, supervisor of the blood center at 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael, said today.

Donors may give blood for hospital patients, the Marin Community Blood Reserve, for credit in organizational reserve funds or to a personal fund. The center is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Volunteers for the speakers' bureau may notify Miss Gibala at the blood center.

Just An Airline Ride To Texas

DALLAS (UPI)—Stanley Marcus has a favorite story to illustrate what makes his Neiman-Marcus stores in Texas stand apart from any specialty store in the world.

A man from the Middle East flew to New York on a shopping trip and decided on matching vicuna coats for his family. But no single store could supply a matching set for the man, his wife, son and daughter. He was told to try Neiman-Marcus.

An airline ride to Texas, and a few hours later the man had his coats and Neiman-Marcus had another satisfied customer.

Marcus told the story recently at a dinner for an audience of writers flown in from over the nation. Co-host for the evening was Jean Desses, Greek-born dressmaker of Paris, who was said to be a friend of the customer who got the matching vicuna coats.

That sale so impressed Desses that he became an admirer of Neiman-Marcus and chose the Texas store as the outlet for his French perfume.

The perfume is "Kalispera"—which is Greek for "good evening." The name was given by Queen Frederika of Greece. The royal family is a favorite customer of Desses.

The Zodiac Room at the Dallas store glittered with jewels and expensive fashions and furs for the showing. Marcus himself, president of the store, narrated the styles including coats for a woman "who wants to spend a mere $10,000."

A $17,500 sable coat was the most expensive garment shown.

Jewels ranged up to a $500,000 diamond necklace with a pear-shaped stone as a drop. One emerald ring was 100 carats. A cats-eye necklace of 90 carats was matched by a 65-carat ring.

Another sleeveless coat, Marcus said, was "a mink for warm-blooded women." He explained that Texas winters are too mild for extensive wear of heavy wraps.

San Quentin Trade Fair Deserves Pat On Back

The first Vocational Trades Fair at San Quentin Prison, held earlier this month, adds to the prestige of inmates, who have already won acclaim for their annual art exhibits and forest fire fighting.

Many of the visitors rated the exhibits at the trade fair as on a par with professional displays at state and county fairs.

We join the Director of Corrections, Walter Dunbar, in saluting San Quentin Prison staff, headed by Warden Lawrence E. Wilson, for a job well done.

The prison gets anough public attention from the reports of escapes and violence within the crowded walls.

And when the inmates get together to put on something constructive, they deserve some recognition. For the vocational trades fair, they really deserved it.

Visitors could see that hard work and meticulous care had gone into the various trade fair exhibits. They included booths on graphic arts, printing and bookbinding, vocational landscaping, clothing and textile, vocational baking, furniture, machine and carpentry, and even shoe repair.

As pointed out by Director Dunbar, "One of the most confounding problems in any prison administration are overcrowding and idleness."

This problem is especially acute at a 2,800-capacity prison, handling more than 4,400 inmates.

The trade fair was a graphic illustration of what the trained prison staff, working with the Inmate Vocational Trades Council, is doing to make the best of a bad situation by keeping men occupied in constructive work and training them for useful trades when they get out.

Trade exhibits like this also give the public a chance to see for themselves what has long been recognized — that San Quentin leads in the field of vocational trades training program among the state's penal institutions.

We hope the trade fair will become an annual event.

Haunting Beauty Of Autumn

This is the time of the Chinese Mid-Autumn Festival. Also known as Moon Festival. This day has its counterpart in the harvest festivals of the Western world.

There is something deep and stirring about a harvest moon to the rural people of this earth. When people become urbanized and suburbanized they lose their intimate feeling with the things of Nature. We think, however, that Marinites, living in a country with such an abundance of wild, natural beauty, possess this primordial instinct of oneness with Nature to a unique degree.

Moon cakes, threshing grain, the stag at eve, the voice of the quail, the liquid lights and shadows of a moonlit night—all part of an unfathomable pull of the season.

Keep Your Bird Feeder Clean

A fungus which begins in stale and fungus-infested bird seed in bird feeders and spreads to the birds' lungs and is invariably fatal has been discovered in some parts of the country.

We don't know whether it is found in Marin yet. But it would be a wise idea for Marinites to keep their feeders as clean as possible and not overload them with more seed than the birds will eat in a day or two.

We should be especially careful during the damp days ahead.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Contrast In Styles Between Fusselman And Kettenhofen

By WAT TAKESHITA

The League of Women Voters, as usual, did a good job in bringing all six of the supervisorial candidates into one room last week for a political discussion.

This was probably the first time in this campaign that Supervisor William Fusselman appeared for a face-to-face debate with his challenger Ernest Kettenhofen.

TAKESHITA

BUT IT DIDN'T turn out to be much of a debate between the two. Because Big Bill Fusselman, who most observers thought would come roaring back at his opponent's charges, pulled another surprise. He declined to lock horns, explaining instead that all his answers would appear in a political advertisement in the papers.

In this respect, the confrontation was a disappointment. However, from here on in, it looks like fireworks. Because Big Bill has indicated he's going to attend more of these meetings from now on, and anything can happen.

And, of course, he will no doubt also rely on prepared newspaper ads, radio pronouncements and on his 36 years in public service.

HOW ABOUT the Kettenhofen strategy?

Looks as if it's going to be a repeat of the highly successful one he ran last June to pull a surprise upset over Fusselman in the primaries.

The Kettenhofen camp seems to be stressing the need to meet the people face to face—by doorbell ringing and accepting any and all invitations to meetings and public forums.

He is hitting hard at what he considers one of the main issues—"the incumbent's absenteeism and negativism." (Last night, Fusselman denied the negativism charge, and tossed in a few jabs of his own.)

KETTENHOFEN has come up with some positive ideas, such as preserving some of the natural beauty of Corte Madera Creek instead of having it concrete-lined all the way up through Fairfax.

He seeks more coordination between cities and various agencies in recreation and conservation, and between the cities and the county in overall planning.

He suggests an alternate route from Highway 101 to West Marin through unpopulated ridge areas.

AND SO, the campaign should really become hot and heavy during the remaining few weeks.

As for the November outcome, it's hard to say. But since Kettenhofen won by almost 700 votes in June, he has a good chance of repeating by winning his share of the votes that went to Jess France, the third man in the June primary.

Well, Truman Is An Expert!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I feel that the nation's press (represented quite ably in Marin County by yourselves, incidentally) has been remiss in the amount of attention accorded the statement made by Mr. Truman regarding Barry's making an ass of himself. In this particular area, Mr. Truman must be considered an expert and his remarks should be accorded the same respect as if Baruch was discussing finance.

Student Is For Night Games

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Your front-page article on night football games . . .

I feel that football games are an important part of high school activity. Night games seem to do a better job at promoting this than do afternoon games.

You have stated that a Redwood student's car was wrecked previous to the Drake-Redwood game. This is really no argument for the abandonment of night games due to two reasons: (1) this was the action of a minority of the student body of both of the involved schools, and (2) this incident occurred on a night previous to the game, thus having no bearing on whether the game was held at night or in the afternoon.

If day games were instituted there would be a noticeable drop in gate receipts. The reason for this is many students find it necessary to work after school and on the weekends and could not attend the game as they could in the evening. . . . Many adults that regularly attend games and work days would find it impossible (to attend). . . .

The extra cost of a night game over a day game is more than made up for by increased gate receipts. . . .

I feel that my statement of the reasons behind maintaining night games in the MCAL overshadow your shaky arguments for the abolition of night games. . . .

Trick Or Treat Plan Denounced

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Let's examine the UNICEF fund-raising program which American children are asked to participate in on Halloween.

Are the American people aware that in 1961 alone, UNICEF gave $1,536,109.46 to Red China . . . to spend as they wished?

Other UNICEF allocations have gone to . . . Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Yugoslavia.

Communists have never been the friends of little children but seek to enslave them. . . . Rather than helping these governments . . . contributions in the names of . . . our churches and missionary societies . . . could be collected.

Under the UNICEF Halloween program, our children are . . . being tricked into treating the enemies of our country.

In Harmony With Humanity, Nature

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . I have lived in several counties but none can quite compare with Marin. . . . Somehow, here in Marin, humanity and animal life have far more faith in one another than I have before observed. Our I-J apparently loves Nature, too.

In my travels from one coast to another, I have never read a newspaper which encompassed the gentler and more feeling side of life as does the I-J. The political, current and sensational have to be printed, of course—but there now and then always seems to be room in the I-J for other things which Nature lovers, like myself, enjoy so much. More power to a newspaper which is not strictly routine . . .

This letter was prompted by a huge flock of crows who just descended upon a virgin ranch pasture, today bulldozed for a new development; and I wonder: What are they seeking? If dead mammals, I'm sorry—but happy for hungry crows. It puts me in mind of a recent and amusing editorial on "crow's nests."

Immigration Bill Data Challenged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Oct. 1, 1964, you published a letter of V. A. Cochran of Corte Madera urging your readers to write their Senators and Congressmen against what Mr. Cochran calls "The new immigration bill before Congress called the Kennedy-Johnson Immigration Bill."

There being no such thing . . . I urge your readers that before writing . . . they obtain more accurate information. . . .

Under existing law, 156,987 quota immigrants may enter the United States each year, not 340,000 as Mr. Cochran alleges. S. 747, introduced in the Senate by Senator Hart and 34 other Senators, would increase that number to 250,000. H. R. 12305, introduced in the House by Representative Feighan, . . . provides for no increase in quotas but does provide for the redistribution of unused quotas. . . . Great Britain, for example, with an annual quota of 65,361, uses only about half that number. . . . This bill would distribute to other countries such unused quotas . . . on a priority basis, first, to close relatives of citizens of the United States, secondly, persons whose services are urgently needed . . . because of high education, technical training, specialized experience or exceptional ability. . . . The third and last preference would go to political refugees from Communist-dominated countries.

No proposed legislation provides for "one million a year" nor 333,000 a year from China, as Mr. Cochran contends. . . .

These are not new concepts nor far-reaching changes but are included in the present Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952. . . .

Mr. Cochran's letter was emotionally moving but factually superficial and inaccurate.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A SPOILED little rich boy, used to being waited upon hand and foot, bought a new pair of shoes. The following morning, the shoe salesman met him hobbling along the street in a most unusual fashion. "What's the matter?" asked the salesman. "Something wrong with those new shoes?" "There certainly is," grumbled the poor little rich boy. "You forgot to cut the string that ties them together."

Goldwater Has Impact On U.S. Policies Just By Running

WASHINGTON — There is one particularly significant aspect to Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's campaign: He is influencing national policy — concretely and visibly.

Quite apart from whether he ever becomes president, Goldwater's candidacy is having a direct impact on the policies and actions of the Johnson administration.

It is a rather considerable impact. Here are four examples:

1. Goldwater has made it easier for President Lyndon B. Johnson to move the Democratic Party to the right; that is, from left-of-center to center. This move began almost immediately after Johnson became president and before Goldwater announced his candidacy.

IT ISN'T that Goldwater started this trend to the right on the part of the administration; he has simply facilitated it.

The president was already intent on cutting the level of federal spending, reducing taxes, reducing federal personnel, and encouraging business—before Goldwater entered the national picture. But the effect of his ultra-conservative campaign has been to enable Johnson to consolidate the support of much of the business community and many moderate conservatives. They are counting on the president to continue to deserve their support.

2. Goldwater is effectively prodding the administration into action on NATO. It is evident that the senator's repeated warning about the disarray of the Atlantic alliance has caused Johnson to speed up his plans for a trip to Europe soon after the election, if elected.

AT LEAST there was no hint from the administration that the president was readying any mission abroad in the interest of strengthening NATO until Goldwater started talking about calling a conference of all NATO nations to promote a more unified North Atlantic community.

3. Goldwater's opposition to all farm price supports is making it easier for the Democrats to move away from past policies—on which they were fixed so long—and strike out in the direction of a freer-market farm economy.

THIS IS EXACTLY what Sen. Hubert Humphrey is doing in behalf of the president. He is speaking with approval about "expanding and preserving" the free market for agriculture and he looks forward to seeing the government giving up "many of the marketing functions now being performed by federal agencies." It seems clear that the Johnson administration is beginning to take the position on farm programs much nearer to the American Farm Bureau Federation and other middle-road farm organizations.

Obviously Humphrey is acting to free the administration from being the captive of the high price-support farm pressure groups—and Goldwater's stated objective of "prompt and final termination of the farm subsidy program" is helping.

4. While many economists consider that Senator Goldwater's proposed automatic 5 per cent-a-year, five-year tax cut is unwise—since nobody can see that far ahead—his general position on taxes enlarges the area of bi-partisan agreement on tax policy. Both candidates know that, with an expanding economy, federal revenue will be steadily increasing at present rates and both favor further tax cuts, though in different forms.

WHAT IS particularly significant is that both Johnson and Goldwater approve returning certain tax sources back to the states in order that state and local government can undertake some of the functions now performed by the federal government.

Whenever a major political party moves in one direction in the U. S., the other party tends to follow. Thus the New Deal moved the Republican Party to the left. The impact of the Goldwater campaign is to move the Johnson administration somewhat to the right.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Spy Trial Stopped On Envoy's Pleading

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—An unpublicized State Department request was behind Acting Atty. Gen. Nicholas deB. Katzenbach's abrupt decision to drop capital espionage charges against a Communist husband-wife spy team.

At almost the same hour that Soviet secret police were manhandling U. S. embassy personnel in Siberia, Deputy Undersecretary of State Llewellyn Thompson was urgently pleading that the government end its prosecution in New York of Aleksandr Sokoiov, 40, and his woman companion, known by the alias Joy Ann Garber Baltch, 34.

THAT'S THE PRIVATE report given the Senate internal security subcommittee, which is probing the mysterious spy case, by reliable sources within the State Department.

According to the subcommittee's information, Thompson's recommendation was approved by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and "a high official in the White House" other than the president.

The trial end came just after a federal court jury was sworn in to begin hearing testimony detailing the covert operations of the two spies.

In dismissing the charges, the Justice Department attorneys said publicly only that they were "acting in the interest of national security."

GOVERNMENT INSIDERS report that the only "national security" involved was fear by the State Department's "experts on Russia" that prosecution of the spies would "dampen U. S.-Soviet relations" and make the work of U. S. officials in Moscow more difficult.

THEY CITE Ambassador Foy Kohler's almost frantic messages from Moscow pleading with Rusk to oppose any more crackdowns on Soviet spies.

Since taking over his present diplomatic post, Kohler has bombarded the State Department with urgent pleas, contending that spy trials and expulsions of Communists were making it extremely difficult for his staff to function.

If the trial had been permitted to proceed, Justice Department attorneys were prepared to link these Communist agents with an espionage ring involving Soviet officials at the United Nations and in Washington.

ONE OF THE MOST controversial Central Intelligence Agency estimates now being circulated at the highest level of government involves the Communist Chinese attack on India in 1962 and the effect this conflict is having on East-West power blocs.

It points out that India, despite a loss of territory to the Chinese Communists, apparently came out the winner—receiving large arms commitments from the U. S., Britain and Russia.

The CIA estimate stresses that "U. S. aid to India in turn upset the Pakistani, who proceeded to improve their relations with China."

The conclusion: The U. S. was the big loser.

Best Way To Get Most Out Of Newspaper Is To Read It

ABOUT THE BEST way to observe National Newspaper Week is to read the newspaper.

This may seem elementary, but the fact is many readers skim through their daily newspaper or give a perfunctory glance at the headlines and toss it aside.

Therefore we offer this suggestion to all readers . . . "Get Your Money's Worth."

WHETHER YOU plunk down a dime at the newsstand or shell out a $1.50 a month for home delivery, don't waste it.

You're paying for information and to overlook it is as wasteful as buying a three-course dinner, and then just nibbling the dessert.

Newspapers probably get the short end of the reader's time because they are an every-day occurrence, an "old shoe" as far as reading matter is concerned.

THE WEEKLY news magazine arrives with a little more fanfare, the monthly magazine becomes a minor reading event and the annual publication rates a place on the bookshelf.

Since life itself is a day-to-day affair, it seems logical it is best to become informed about it day-by-day.

The reader who skims through his daily newspaper will often say that he just does not have time to give it a thorough once over every day.

IN THAT EVENT, the newspaper industry might play down National Newspaper Week and start a campaign for a "15-Minute-a-Day Newspaper Reading Plan."

It could be a sort of mental fitness program to go along with a reader's "15-Minute-a-Day Physical Fitness Plan."

Light readers could increase their pace say from reading two stories a day to 20 stories a day, by gradual steps, of course.

HEAVY READERS would have to change some of their habits such as spending 30 minutes on the sports page and only two seconds on page one.

Other readers say they just can't keep up with everything that's going on in the world, nation, state, county, city and neighborhood.

This, no doubt, is true, but we remind these readers that the world starts at your doorsteps and this is where your daily newspaper starts its coverage.

All the news coverage in the world isn't worth a hoot if it isn't read. The more it's read, the more it's worth to the reader.

Play Planned At Hamilton

The Hamilton Little Theater Guild will present "See How They Run" at 8 p.m. Nov. 6, 7 and 8 at Theater No. 2 at Hamilton Air Force Base.

A comedy set in an English vicarage, the play is directed by Charles P. Crow Jr.

The cast includes Sylvia Scott as Ida, the Cockney maid; Karen De Mars as Miss Skillon, old maid; Steve Thomas as Lionel Toop, the vicar; Jan Stephens as Penelope Toop, actress wife of the vicar; Geoffrey Baril as Clice, American airman, Shand Stephens as the intruder, a Russian spy; Dan Bendig as the Bishop of Lax, Penelope's uncle; Lee Burris as Rev. Arthur Humphrey, visiting clergyman; Joe Younce as Sergeant Towers, Cockney non-com.

Today is Friday, Oct. 16, the 290th day of 1964 with 76 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Jupiter, Mars and Venus. The evening stars are Saturn and Jupiter.

American playwright Eugene O'Neill was born on this day in 1888.

On this day in history:

In 1846, the first operation with a patient under ether anesthesia was performed at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

In 1859, abolitionist John Brown, staged a raid on Harper's Ferry, Va. He seized a hotel, arsenal, firehouse and 30 townspeople.

In 1934, Chinese Communists began their long march to the northwest where they established headquarters and planned to continue the attack against Nationalist China.

In 1959, U. S. Army Chief of Staff George Marshall died.

A thought for the day — Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius said: "Receive wealth or position without arrogance, and be ready to let it go."

Opening lead — ♠ 4

This brilliant conversation followed the play of the hand shown today. South won the first trick with the ace of spades and wondered whether to finesse with the jack of diamonds or the queen of clubs.

USELESS THOUGHT

After much useless thought, he tried the queen of clubs, losing to the king.

East returned a spade to the queen, and West eventually won two heart tricks. Down one.

"Four key cards, and they were all in the wrong position," South moaned. "I could take four finesses, but all four would lose. What have I done to deserve such luck?"

NOTHING WRONG

There was nothing wrong with South's luck—just with his line of play. South didn't need any finesses and should not have tried any.

South should take the ace of spades and fire the jack of spades right back. When both opponents follow suit, South is home.

West returns a club, but declarer puts up dummy's ace. He ruffs a low spade, gets back to dummy with a diamond to ruff another low spade, cashes the ace of hearts, takes the king of diamonds, and leads a low diamond.

EITHER WAY

If West ruffs, declarer throws the queen from dummy. If West fails to ruff, declarer ruffs the diamond in dummy and leads the last spade to discard the remaining club from his hand.

Either way South avoids the loss of a club trick.

He gives up only one spade and two trumps.

QUESTION

Partner opens with 1 NT (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 8 7 4
♡ 10 9 8 5 2
◇ 9 5 4 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts.

Your hand should produce about three tricks at a heart contract but may be completely worthless at notrump. Your partner is supposed to pass two hearts unless he has a very good fit for hearts—and even then he [illegible] to only three hearts.

As dealer:
♠ 7 6 5 [illegible]
♡ J 7 6 4
◇ A J
♣ A Q

What do you say?

Answer: This is a "book" opening bid since you have 12 points in high cards and 2 points for the doubletons. If you trust the books, bid one spade. I would bid if the high cards were in the long suits, but as the hand stands, I would pass.

WHERE DO THEY COME FROM?

(we refer to home buyers)

- The largest percentage of home buyers (71.9%)* who buy homes in the Novato Area are ALREADY living in Marin County.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, COVERING 2 OUT OF EVERY 3 HOMES in the county.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED.
- In the I-J, your sales message goes where the GREATEST NUMBER of BUYERS are.
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.
- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- SOURCE: "A Survey on the Origins of Home Buyers in Marin County," conducted by the Marin County Abstract and Title Company.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Quality Of A Star Shows On The Film

By RICK Du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The recent deaths of Eddie Cantor, Harpo Marx and Gracie Allen left an added twinge of sorrow because all three were not only great performers but nice human beings as well. And their audiences knew it, sensed it.

Niceness may not—and should not—count for as much as talent in show business, but any televiewer can tell you that the personal affection a video star commands is very often a major factor in lasting power on the home tube. This is particularly true in a medium which is really not so much entertainment as merchandising, and which has an extraordinarily low level and therefore depends heavily on its stars to bring the audience back.

Visitors to Hollywood will often ask what certain stars are "really like." Except when referring to the page one celebrities, this query usually is directed at finding out whether the headliner being referred to is as nice as the questioner hopes. Film impressions rarely lie; the cameras are merciless in their revelations of character, and invariably the instinctive judgments of the reasonably intelligent viewer about the nature of a famous personality are pretty near correct.

I don't think there is any doubt that the basic decency that Lawrence Welk projects has a great deal to do with the longevity of his show. As with Welk, much humor has been directed at Ed Sullivan's delivery, yet I am certain it is Sullivan himself who is responsible for a good part of his long run because of his unpretentious and enthusiastic manner.

Beneath the droll comedy and needling of Alfred Hitchcock, the audience certainly senses a likeable human being whose company is always welcome. One may or may not like "The Beverly Hillbillies" as a show, but the principals are undeniably pleasant types.

Likewise, there can be little doubt that the affection of viewers was as responsible as any factor for the long-running and high-rated success of the Lucille Ball-Andy Griffith-Danny Thomas lineup. And certainly Dick Van Dyke and Carol Burnett naturally project their legitimate warmth to the nation.

For some reason, the likeability of most of the younger performers seems many cuts below that of the veterans, who understand more fully the enormous importance of this level of contact between actor and audience. Raymond Burr (Perry Mason) and E. G. Marshall (The Defenders), and even Lorne Greene (Bonanza) are veterans who appear to appreciate this, and of course Danny Kaye too.

The freak shows may have their day, as in this season, but Bob Hope and Bing Crosby are likely to be remembered a bit longer than "Bewitched."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The Republicans bought 90 minutes of air time on NBC-TV this Sunday, starting at 3:30 p.m. (EDT). Key figures in the Johnson administration's "war on poverty" campaign are reported seeking television's help in dramatizing the message of the drive in various programs.

A sketch tonight on CBS-TV's "The Entertainers" which would have spoofed the same network's series "The Doctors and the Nurses" has been replaced. The sketch, starring Carol Burnett, dealt with the addition of new cast regulars to a series. "The Doctors and the Nurses" was, until recently, merely "The Nurses."

Rocket Reactor Is Restarted

JACKASS FLATS, Nev. (AP) —A Nerva NRX A-2 nuclear rocket reactor has been successfully restarted, demonstrating a valuable capability to allow future nuclear rocket engines to be switched off and on in space.

The Atomic Energy Commission's Space Nuclear Propulsion Office announced that the reactor was restarted yesterday at this test facility and that it ran at low power for about 20 minutes.

The same reactor was used in a full-power run last Sept. 24.

Nerva is part of the U.S. nuclear rocket program which is expected to result in a nuclear engine for space flight in the mid 1970s.

MARIN FILM FARE

Italian Movie With Sophia Due Hub Screen Showing

By LES DARD

Here's the current and coming fare for Marin area movie theaters this weekend:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Sophia Loren appears in triplicate in "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," an Italian film in which she and Marcello Mastroianni co-star in three roles.

Each of three episodes are in a different city and entirely different circumstances.

As Adelina of Naples, Sophia keeps her little family together by selling cigarets on the black market. About to be arrested, she discovers she is pregnant and nursing women can't be jailed.

Thus begins an almost perpetual pregnancy. After seven babies she goes to jail. Mastroianni is the husband.

The scenes switch to Milan, where Sophia plays a rich, unhappy wife, and Mastroianni her lover.

Final episode has Sophia in Rome with Mastroianni and a young boy who is studying for the priesthood.

RAFAEL THEATER

A lavishly set British melodrama paints a portrait of suspense in "Woman of Straw," starring Gina Lollobrigida and Sean Connery. It starts on Sunday.

Ralph Richardson is an invalid, and hateful old millionaire. Gina is his nurse, Connery his conniving nephew. In order to inherit his hated uncle's fortune, Connery first hires Gina, then gets her to marry the magnate.

When the old man dies mysteriously, nobody takes it very hard — but everyone is under suspicion. Mostly Gina.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Also opening Sunday is "Night of the Iguana," Tennessee William's soul-searching play set to film. Most people will find it strangely moving, a satisfying study of the human condition in the backwaters of life.

Richard Burton plays the central figure, a discredited minister.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Samuel Bronstein gives us political intrigue, swordplay, chariot racing, massacre, orgy and romance as he recaptures the grandeur that was Rome in "The Fall of the Roman Empire," now on screen.

The time is 180 A.D. Emperor Marcus Aurelius dies before he can disinherit his dissipated son, and name as his successor the strong young general who believes that Rome's future lies in peace.

By destroying his father's achievements and rousing the conquered people of the empire to revolt, the son, Commodus, causes Rome's frontiers to crumble.

Christopher Plummer as Commodus, Stephen Boyd as General Livius, Sophia Loren, Alec Guiness and James Mason do their best with a rather sparse screenplay.

Exciting viewing.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Now showing is "Charade," in which the audience gets to play a guessing game. It's a delightful romantic comedy — with suspense.

The absurd but fascinating story starts when Audrey Hepburn returns from the Alps to find her husband dead and the family fortune gone. A trio of criminal types are soon hounding her for $250,000 they think is theirs.

Cary Grant steps in to be her protector.

The second feature is "Bye Bye Birdie," which comes to the screen with all the vigor of the stage musical.

Ann-Margret, Jessie Pearson, Janet Leigh and Dick van Dyke head the cast in the story of a drafted pop singer who gives a symbolic farewell kiss to a teenage fan.

NOVATO THEATER

Starting Sunday is the brilliant "Tom Jones," triumph of 1963 and winner of the best picture Oscar.

Albert Finney stars in this raucous rendering of Henry Fielding's classic novel, and all of its lustiness and excesses are here to be enjoyed.

A superlative cast and superior credits make this a memorable experience deserving each of its four Oscars.

Co-featured is the film debut of the late Ian Fleming's slick sleuth, James Bond. It's called "Dr. No," starring Sean Connery.

101 DRIVE-IN

Now on screen is "Good Neighbor Sam" starring Jack Lemmon, Romy Schneider and Dorothy Provine.

The story features Lemmon as a happily married but thoroughly bored San Francisco advertising executive—bored, that is until his wife's best friend, Miss Schneider, is separated from her husband and moves in next door. Lemmon becomes the good neighbor.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Spartacus" starts its return run here Sunday.

It has many big names, clanging swords, and a staggering 12-million-dollar price tag.

Kirk Douglas stars in the lead role, that of a Thracian gladiator who led a revolt of slaves against the ancient Romans, and held off their legions for four years. Also starred are Jean Simmons, Sir Laurence Olivier, Charles Laughton and Peter Ustinov.

Co-feature is "Wild and Wonderful," a sort of shaggy dog story, which stars Tony Curtis, Christine Kaufmann and Monsieur Cognac, a French film star poodle who tries to foul up their romance.

LARK THEATER

Fine entertainment is held over in "The Grand Olympics," color documentary of the 1960 Olympics in Rome.

Water Pollution Decision Put Off

Decision on the long-standing conflict between clamming and sewage in Bolinas Lagoon was put off for 60 days by the San Francisco Bay Region Water Pollution Control Board today at the request of the Bolinas Public Utilities District.

After a hearing before the board Aug. 20, the matter was postponed until today for decision.

The state and Marin County health departments have recommended that clamming in the bay either be banned or dumping of sewage forbidden. Representatives of the utilities district have protested that any alternative to the present dumping system would not be economically feasible.

School Boards Talk Changes

George Sheviakov, professor of psychology at San Francisco State College, will speak at the annual meeting of the Marin County School Boards Assn. at the Rancho Rafael Oct. 24.

Sheviakov's topic will be "Learning Process of Boys and Girls."

The previously announced speaker, Ronald Moskowitz, secretary to Gov. Edmund G. Brown, will be unable to attend because of "unavoidable circumstances," the association reported today.

Airline Claims Demo Bill Unpaid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The board chairman of Airlift International Inc., formerly Riddle Airlines, told stockholders yesterday that a $16,000 bill for transporting 80 persons to Las Vegas and back in April, 1963, for a testimonial dinner in honor of Sen. Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.) remains only partly paid.

But James H. Carmichael declined to say how much had been paid.

Carmichael said the bill had been sent by mistake to Robert G. (Bobby) Baker, who later resigned as secretary to Senate Democrats. "Baker apparently had nothing to do with the charter," Carmichael said.

Former German Prisoner In U.S. Is Now A Citizen

Wilhelm Reinhardt spent three years in the United States as a German prisoner of war during World War II, and was held in France another three years before he could return to his native Frankfurt on Main.

You might think he would never venture away from home again. But Reinhardt returned to the United States six years ago with his wife, Apollonia Katharina. They settled with their daughter in Point Reyes Station.

Last month, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt became citizens of the United States.

Reinhardt, a German paratrooper attached to Rommel's forces during the North African campaign, was wounded and captured in 1942. During his hospital and prison camp stay in America, he was transferred so often that he had brief residence in 18 states.

His return to Germany was delayed by the French who retained many prisoners in work volved in anti-guerrilla warfare camps. He did not get home until 1949. He and Mrs. Reinhardt, also a native of Frankfurt on Main, had known each other in school prior to the war. Soon after his return, they were married.

Reinhardt, well trained in mechanics, used his knowledge to start his own business in Point Reyes Station, a repair and maintenance service. This business has grown steadily.

The Reinhardts have a daughter Elke, 8, a third grader at West Marin School. With her parents both naturalized, she becomes a citizen of the United States automatically.

A Dutch family from Indonesia, who know the suffering of people under both communism and fascism, represent five of Marin County's newest U. S. citizens.

Jaap Suyderhoud of 222 Sequoia Drive, San Anselmo, a former captain in the Dutch army, fought fascism as a member of the Dutch underground from 1943 to 1945. He was in in Indonesia from 1947 to 1950.

His wife, Babs, was in a Japanese prison camp near Jakarta, Indonesia, from 1942 to 1945.

Two of their sons, Jack, 15, and Michael, 14, students at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo, were born in Indonesia. Jerry, their 11-year-old, was born in Ede, Holland, their home until they came to Marin County in 1958.

"We knew what the judge was talking about when he said part of the greatness of America was its ability to provide a home for many nationalities," said Suyderhoud.

"There were 113 new citizens crowded into the courtroom that day, representing 27 different nationalities.

"We are very proud to be Americans. People who will work hard for what they want have a much greater chance of achieving their goals here and still have fun," said Suyderhoud, who is manager of used car sales for E. F. Sweeney British Cars of San Rafael.

"In Europe, one has to be a millionaire to own their own home because it is so crowded there."

A girl who grew up in wartime Japan is now the wife of an Air Force sergeant and happy to be a citizen living in this country.

Mrs. Chieko Swatzell, wife of S/Sgt. Charles Swatzell of 322 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, is another of Marin's new U. S. citizens.

She quit school because of World War II to work in a railroad station in Osaka when she was 12 years old. Later she worked for her mother in a tailoring shop in their home, then in a restaurant.

She met Swatzell while he was stationed with the U. S. Army in Japan after the war. After a three-year courtship, they married eight years ago. Swatzell was transferred to the United States a year later and they lived in Tennessee and Massachusetts prior to coming to Hamilton Air Force Base 19 months ago.

They have two children, Donna Jean, in fourth grade, and Ronald, in first grade, both at Meadow Park School on the base.

"I love it here and would like to live the rest of my life in the United States," said the new citizen.

Other Marin residents who received U. S. citizenship last month are:

Roderick Cameron, 211 Cleveland Court, and Emile Roger Paris, 103 Cornelia Avenue, both Mill Valley; Samuele Elipido Di Girolamo, 1675 Grand Avenue, San Rafael; Mrs. Herta Marie Alejandre, 645 Morgan Drive, Novato; Rosalie Virginia Harper, 20 Yolanda Drive, San Anselmo, and Horst Adolf Meyer, 53 Mercury Avenue, Tiburon.

Del Mar Students Elect Officers

Andy Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen of Belvedere, yesterday was elected president of the Del Mar School Student Assn. in Reed School District.

Dana Lennihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lennihan, Belvedere, was elected vice president; Scott Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mitchell, Tiburon, secretary; Andy Hoots, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoots, Tiburon, treasurer.

Artists' Field Trip Is Slated

Reservations for a weekend field trip in Marin County and an 11-day trip to Mexico in December for watercolor artists are being taken by Mrs. Mae E. Ralston, Box 462, Fairfax.

Richard Yip, member of the faculty at Stockton and Stanislaus colleges, will be instructor for the classes to be held in the Lagunitas and Forest Knolls area Nov. 7 and in the Loch Lomond area of San Rafael Nov. 8 for beginning and advanced students.

The trip to Mexico will start Dec. 19 with 26 painters and six non-painters traveling to the Guaymas-San Carlos area of Sonora by chartered bus, returning to San Francisco Dec. 30.

Captain Training

Army Capt. Robert P. Judson, son of Col. and Mrs. Robert R. Judson, 228 East Strawberry Drive, Strawberry, is participating with the 11th Air Assault Division in "Exercise Air Assault II," a month-long field training maneuver in the tri-state area of Georgia, North and South Carolina.

The third tri-county photography competition of 1964 will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Greenbrae School under sponsorship of the Ross Valley Camera Club.

The contest will include black and white prints and color slides entered by members of the Silverado Camera Club of Napa, the Redwood Empire Camera Club of Santa Rosa, and the Ross Valley club. The public is invited to see the entries at the school at no charge, according to Inez Doyal, president of the local group.
